SYNOPSIS OF CONTENTS.

The Oklahoma and Indian Territory Gazetteer contains 950 pages, the contents arranged as follows: The first 100 pages are devoted to useful miscellaneous information relating to Oklahoma, embracing a descriptive sketch of Oklahoma, showing its first exploration, development and population, location and water courses, contour of the surface, soil, products, railroads, schools, revenues, etc., territorial government and officers, territorial institutions, the judiciary, commercial laws, list of county seats and county officers, a Bankers' Directory, giving names of officers and capital, etc.

Pages 101 to 398 is an alphabetical list of the cities, villages and settlements in Oklahoma with a sketch of each place, showing its geographical location, population, distance to different points, most convenient shipping stations and banking points, products that are marketed, churches, schools, libraries and other items of interest. Each of these sketches is followed by the names of all business and professional persons located there as well as those in business in the surrounding country for which it is the postoffice.

Pages 438 to 446 embrace miscellaneous matter relating to Indian Territory.

Pages 447 to 639 is an alphabetical arrangement of all the cities, villages and settlements in the Indian Territory, with information identical with the Oklahoma portion of the work.

Pages 657 to 950 contain an alphabetical list of classifications of the various trades and professions followed, within the two territories. Every line of trade is represented in these classifications, and all the persons doing business in each particular line throughout the territories are arranged in alphabetical order by towns under these classifications, thus bringing the persons engaged in any business or profession in the two territories together under one heading separated by towns.

OKLAHOMA.

(Extract from Governor Jenkins' Report.)

Historically considered, Oklahoma as a territory, is of recent origin, but as a small portion of the great tract of Southwestern country, known at various times and under various circumstances as Louisiana, Mandan Territory, the Great American Desert, Uninhabitable Lands and the Indian Territory, it has a place in the history of the nation dating back to the days of the Spanish explorers, who sought in the great Southwest unknown empires and their reputed fabulous wealth. Following the course of travel described in many early Spanish manuscripts and books, one is readily convinced that the original Oklahoma boomers were the little army of adventurous spirits who traversed the Southwest under the leadership of De Soto, and that they were followed by Jesuits and others who sought wealth in the mineral veins of the mountains and hills of the Territory, there are unmistakable signs in lately discovered ruins of mines and places of early abode. Lewis and Clarke visited the territory in one of their early exploring expeditions, and the prairies and valleys of the territory were the hunting grounds of the early tribes of Indians, from the earliest time of which there is record of the movements of the aboriginal Americans.

When the Indian Territory was created as a home for all of the Indian tribes, and with the intention of some day building there a great Indian state, most of what is now Oklahoma Territory was included within its bounds, and Washington Irving, who, in 1834 made a hunting trip here, describes most graphically the beauty and wealth of Oklahoma's natural endowments in his sketch, "A Tour of the Prairies."

Some time early in the seventies, the name of Oklahoma first appears in political history, the occasion being the introduction in Congress of a bill to create a territory out of a portion of the Indian Territory to be known as Oklahoma. The measure failed of passage, and for more than a decade little or nothing was heard of this country. Then came the agitation started by Payne and Couch and kept up by their intrepid little band of boomers until, in March, 1890, in the dying hours of Congress, an amendment was tacked on the Indian appropriation bill providing for the opening to homestead settlement of the little area of land then known as Oklahoma, embracing less than 3,000,000 acres now lying in the heart of a great territory. This land was opened on April 22, 1890, and then occurred the first great Oklahoma rush. The brief legislation opening the land provided no form of government, and for over a year the people of the territory were a law unto themselves. The only government during this period was that created and maintained by common consent, yet there was no lawlessness or outlawry, and property and life were adequately protected at all times.

In June, 1890, the Territorial Government came into existence, and by the same act of Congress the strip of country known as "No Man's Land," embracing 3,681,000 acres, was added as Beaver County. In September, of the same year the 1,282,434 acres embraced in the Sauk and Fox, Iowa and Pottawatomie reservations, in the eastern part of the territory, were opened to settlement, and the following spring came the 4,297,771 acres of Cheyenne and Arapaho land, September 16, 1893, the Cherokee strip was opened to settlement, and the Counties of Kay, Grant, Woods, Woodward, Garfield, Noble, and Pawnee created from its 6,014,239 acres of fertile land. In 1895, the Kickapoo reservation of 206,662 acres was settled, and the year following Greer County, which had been previous to that considered a portion of Texas, was given to the territory by a decision of the Supreme Court of the United States.

All these, with the Kiowa, Comanche, Apache, and Wichita reservations just opened, give the territory a settled area of 24,000,000 acres, 1,725,646 still being included in Indian reservations.

STRUGGLES ANOTHER STORY.

This, in brief, is the story of the creation of Oklahoma Territory, but of the long struggles to secure the various enactments of Congress required to bring it about, of the successive great rushes of settlers to the country, of the struggles to build up here an ideal American commonwealth, and of the great measure of success attained, volumes might be written. In the little more than a decade which has elapsed since the creation of the territory, the people have accomplished here more than any other community had ever accomplished in a quarter of a century. The story of the achievements of this people, whose progressiveness, energy, industry and American citizenship has never been equaled, reads almost like a fairy tale, and the great and lasting results attained can only be realized by him who comes and views and ponders.

THE PRESENT.

Looking back over the brief but eventful history of their territory, recounting their struggles and triumphs, and complacently viewing their comfortable and prosperous surroundings, the people of Oklahoma are well satisfied with their present conditions, and believe their future prospects are brighter and greater than those of any people on earth.

With an area a little greater than that of the State of Indiana, with a climate whose health-giving breezes are nowhere excelled; with an altitude invigorating and inspiring; geographically of the south, but politically of the north; with a mixture of northern push and energy with southern comfort and hospitality; with scenery of rugged mountain and valley, far-stretching prairie and wooded hill; with soil as fertile as the valley of the Nile; with rainfall and other climatic conditions favorable to the successful growing of all the crops of the temperate zone, here is the ideal location for a home and the opportunity for agricultural and commercial enterprise.

And when to the natural advantages with which the territory has been so richly endowed, the people have added thriving cities, growing business enterprises, successful farms and orchards and vineyards, school houses and churches, colleges and universities, comfortable and permanent homes, surrounded by all the social advantages of a purely American community, is it any wonder they are envied by countless thousands with less favorable surroundings in the crowded communities of the other States? Is it strange that the railway trains are loaded with home-seekers whose destination is Oklahoma, and the wagon roads are constantly traversed with white-topped wagons loaded with families discouraged or disheartened at the adverse conditions in many older communities and seeking the opportunities and advantages which all enjoy here in this new commonwealth?

To all who have come, Oklahoma has extended a welcome hand, and to the countless thousands who are weary of the ceaseless grind, the galling bond of conventionality and class, and the overcrowding of all lines of business, professions and agriculture, she extends an invitation to come and participate in the freedom and prosperity and opportunities of the past as well as the possibilities of a future whose limits seem boundless.

THE FUTURE.

Had any man dared ten years ago to foretell for Oklahoma but a small portion of what is to-day a reality, he would undoubtedly have been classed with Munchausen, or adjudged a fit subject of restraint in some asylum for the insane.

And in view of what has been accomplished in these ten years in a new and untried land by a people who had little capital save their strong right arms and active brains, who dares predict for the future, now that the success of all lines of agriculture and business are assured, the lesson of experience has been learned, and not only people but capital and wealth are coming and taking hold on every hand to make the future far eclipse the rapid progress of the past. Here to-day is a growing, progressive American community of more than half a million people successful in all lines of life work, with schools and colleges and universities beyond those of half the States, with a code of laws equal to those of any State; with a taxable wealth sufficient to carry on all the functions and institutions of self-government without burdening the people. Who, then, can give any good reason why all the rights and privileges of self-government should not be accorded these people? Let him who disputes the claim of Oklahoma to a place in the galaxy of States carefully peruse the following report as showing the past progress, present conditions and future possibilities of the territory, and he cannot but be convinced, even against his will, of her right to statehood.

POPULATION.

With a population (500,000) several times greater than that of any territory ever admitted to statehood and greater than that of thirteen different States of the Union at this time; with a taxable valuation greater than any State of the Union at its admission; with a school population almost double the average population of all the States when granted self-government; with an area almost equal to that of the State of Ohio, and greater than that of thirteen States; with a free school within easy distance of every home and a higher college or university education offered without price to all of the youth of the Territory, of whatever race, or sex or condition; with well governed cities and counties, and laws enforced in every way; with a people 96 per cent American born and all loyal and patriotic citizens; with an annual production of 26,000,000 bushels of wheat, 60,000,000 bushels of corn, 150,000 bales of cotton, other agricultural products in proportion, and herds that pass the million mark; with a financial record without a stain of default or repudiation; with a financial, commercial and business growth equaled by no other State or Territory, is not Oklahoma clearly entitled to admission to the sisterhood of States?

And if it be that the lawmakers of the nation decide the Oklahoma and Indian Territory shall be admitted only as one state, how much stronger is the claim for immediate recognition?

For the Indian Territory has a population almost equal to that of Oklahoma, and combined the State would have a population exceeding a million or about eighteen times the average population of the States of Vermont, Kentucky, Tennessee, Ohio, Louisiana, Indiana, Mississippi, Illinois, Alabama, Missouri, Arkansas, Michigan, Florida, Iowa, Wisconsin, California, Minnesota, Oregon, Kansas, Nevada, Nebraska or Colorado when admitted as States. It is claimed by many that the conditions are not right in the Indian Territory for statehood, and it is true that there are conditions there which present a serious problem for the future, but they can be worked out as well or even better, under State government.

LOCATION AND NATURAL FEATURES.

Oklahoma Territory lies between the 34th and 37th parallels north latitude, and mostly between 96 degrees, 30 minutes and 100 degrees west longitude. Its location, north and south, coincides with that of Tennessee; east and west with Central Kansas and Texas.

It is, like Kansas or Nebraska, an undulating region, restful to the eye and permitting wide views. The western part is modified by miniature canyons, high bluffs and lofty plateaus; while the eastern is bordered by heavily timbered hills—but the general effect is that of the prairies.

The transitions from forest to open plain are abrupt and afford a perpetual surprise and delight. Gigantic and magnificent landscape views must be sought elsewhere. He who admires quiet tones and pastoral effects—the dome of the sky matched in simplicity by the carpet of the earth—will linger long over an Oklahoma scene as it appears in late spring or early autumn.

The altitude varies from 800 to 3,000 feet above sea level, the general slope being toward the southeast. Population here is densest between 800 and 1,300 feet. This elevation is favorable to grains, forage plants, and a healthful animal existence. It is also an altitude where, according to experts, the greatest increase in our country's wealth and inhabitants is sure to occur in the next decade.

It is bounded on the north by Kansas, on the south and west by Texas, and on the south and east by the Indian Territory, occupying a position midway between the extremes of heat and cold, wet and dry.

It is well watered by numerous rivers, creeks and springs, which are fed either by mountain snows or by local rainfall. These sources are usually sufficient to keep the watercourses supplied, so that they rarely, if ever, run dry. Good water may be found in all parts of the territory at depths ranging from twenty to one hundred feet. The streams follow the southeastern dip of the land and comprise two main systems of drainage, the Arkansas and the Canadian, separated by a commanding water shed.

Into the Arkansas River empties the Salt Fork and Cimarron Rivers, with their affluents, the Cottonwood, Chikaskia, Black Bear, Red Rock and Still-water.

Into the Canadian flow the North Fork, Deep Fork, Little and Washita, with their tributaries.

With few exceptions, all these streams have high, steep banks, and are fed by living springs; they are not as turbid as most mid-continent watercourses, reminding one of the clear waters of New England.

The upland soil is a red, sandy loam; on the bottom this loam is deep and rich, with great moisture-holding qualities. The northeastern counties possess a black soil like that of Kansas. Four-fifths can be cultivated.

Timber is abundant east of the main line of the A., T. & S. F. Ry., consisting of walnut, oak, cedar, pecan, hickory and cottonwood, and is available for firewood and fencing. The early settlers, who were not overly blessed with ready cash at the start, made many a dollar by cutting firewood and hauling it into town for sale. The presence of timber also made much easier the task of fencing and putting up rude shelters for stock.

Even now the wooded section is quite large and the planting of young trees along the roadways will soon transform even the treeless districts into avenues of shade for the traveler and ultimately into a source of considerable profit for the owners.

SOCIAL AND RELIGIOUS.

Many misinformed people in the States look upon Oklahoma as the home of the savage and scene of outlawry and barbarism, when nothing can be further from the truth. The people of the Territory, as a rule, are intelligent, cultivated and educated to a degree beyond those of the majority of the older communities. Social life has much the same aspects as in the States, and yet there is a difference; for there are no distinctions of caste or class to be found here.

Oklahoma has been settled by a remarkably strong, self-reliant and energetic people—the more active and enterprising element from all the States—who brought with them neither "purse nor scrip," settled upon homesteads of 160 acres, each man relying upon his own resources, often consisting of but a strong right arm and an intelligent mind, to build for himself a home surrounded by the comforts and privileges of a civilized life.

The progress has been phenomenal, and the wisdom of the homestead law, which encourages the citizen to own his own home and successfully employ his own labor, has been fully demonstrated here.

This is a thoroughly democratic community, where all have equal opportunities for advancement and preferment, and where all are prosperous. There is neither any very rich nor any pauper class, and the homes of all the people are reasonably supplied with the comforts of life. The people of Oklahoma are cosmopolitan, coming from every section of the nation, and a few from foreign lands. They are energetic, progressive and industrious to an extent that has caused them to build up in the space of a decade a commonwealth that has never been equaled for progress anywhere in the history of the world. They are distinctively American with less than 5 per cent of foreign birth, and with a per cent of illiteracy less than that of three-fourths of the States of the Union. They are hospitable and open-hearted, loyal and patriotic, not only to the nation but to their own rising commonwealth, which every man, woman and child, resident therein, believes to be superior to any other under similar conditions, and a coming State which shall be equaled by few and excelled by none.

TAXABLE PROPERTY.

The total valuation of all property in the Territory as returned for taxation in 1901 was $60,464,696, an increase of $11,126,035 over 1900. Of this amount $4,538,375 was railway property, $17,279,809 farm lands, $8,062,657 town property, $2,552,932 moneys and credits, and $28,631,013 other personal property.

Farm lands were returned at an average of $3.45 per acre, cattle at $12.58, horses at $17.14, sheep at $1.30 and hogs at $2.46, which shows that property is returned at a very small part of its real value.

The total assessment of each of the counties is given below for three years for comparison:

TAXES.

The taxes in any new country where there are so many things to be inaugurated, are apt to be somewhat higher than in old settled communities, but the Territorial tax of Oklahoma has been an exception to this rule, having always been less than the State taxes of most of the States. The Territorial tax levy for 1901 is 7½ mills, divided as follows:

	Mills.
General fund	3.
University support	0.5
University building7
University preparatory school2
Normal, Edmund, support5

	Mills
Normal, Alva, support.....	.5
Alva normal building.....	.25
Agricultural and mechanical college support.....	.1
Agricultural and mechanical college building.....	.3
Agricultural and normal university support.....	.1
Agricultural and normal university building.....	.3
Southwest normal building.....	.4
Deaf and dumb institute.....	.4
Bond interest.....	.25
Total.....	7.5

This is an increase of 2.35 mills over last year's rate, the increase being wholly for the erection and payment of buildings for the various educational institutions.

The amount of tax for Territorial purposes this levy will produce in the various counties of the Territory is as follows:

Beaver	$ 12,105 59	Logan	35,198 11
Blaine	7,470 73	Noble	15,224 57
Canadian	37,284 21	Oklahoma	35,532 60
Cleveland	16,331 42	Pawnee	16,165 03
Custer	12,388 02	Payne	24,117 30
Day	3,584 34	Pottawatomie	22,133 03
Dewey	6,080 44	Roger Mills.....	6,852 84
Garfield	23,293 50	Washita	10,749 80
Grant	20,442 15	Woods	36,361 51
Greer	25,223 24	Woodward	15,593 36
Kay	27,207 23
Kingfisher	24,462 79	Total	$453,485 09
Lincoln	19,699 35

Owing to the fact that no taxes whatever were collected the first two years after the Territory settlement, the local taxes in some of the communities were excessively high for a year or two, but every county and city, and almost every school district is now on a cash basis, and the taxes are no higher than in any active, progressive community. While in some instances the tax rate at first glance would seem to be high, when it is taken into consideration that both real and personal property is listed at about one-third its actual value, it would seem that the rate was comparatively a very moderate one. It is a significant fact that the tax rate in a majority of the counties of the territory has been reduced the past year.

TERRITORIAL INDEBTEDNESS.

The total Territorial indebtedness of Oklahoma on June 30, 1901, was $466,220.13, or about $1 per capita. Of this indebtedness $48,000 is in bonds issued for educational purposes in the first year of the Territory's history. The balance is in warrant indebtedness accumulating by a casual deficit each year and mostly caused by the failure to realize sufficient from the general-fund levy of three mills to meet the warrants authorized to be drawn upon that fund. This does not include the indebtedness incurred in the erection of the Northwestern Normal School, amounting, with interest, to a little over $100,000, and provision for the payment of which was made at the last session of the Legislature by the levying of a special tax. All this indebtedness bears 6 per cent interest, but it could be funded into long-time bonds at a very much lower rate. This procedure would, I believe, be advisable and of great benefit to the Territory, in that the annual interest charge would be greatly reduced and all of the Territorial business be put on a cash basis.

The present Territorial revenues are adequate to meet all expenditures and the rapid growth of taxable wealth would make it easy to accumulate a sinking fund to take up the bonds when due.

PUBLIC SCHOOLS.

The public school system of Oklahoma is at once the pride and glory of the rising commonwealth. Its remarkable development kept pace with the phenomenal material progress of the growing state.

One of the first acts of the legislative assembly a decade ago was to enact comprehensive laws for the establishment and support of a public school system. Indeed, the organic act passed by the General Government appropriated $50,000 to assist in establishing public schools, most of which was expended in teachers' salaries.

In each county there is a county superintendent, elected every two years, whose duty it is to see that the school laws are enforced in the counties, to visit and inspect the schools, to hold public gatherings, to encourage education, and to make full and complete reports of educational conditions and progress. There is also a Territorial superintendent, appointed by the governor, who has general supervision and management of the schools, under such limitations and restrictions as the law may prescribe.

The general educational policy of the Territory is molded by the Territorial Board of Education, consisting of the Territorial superintendent, the president of the university, the president of the normal school located at Edmond, and one city superintendent and one county superintendent appointed by the governor. This board grants Territorial certificates and diplomas, certificates to instructors and conductors of normal institutes, and prepares the questions for Territorial, county, and city teachers' examinations.

Some years ago the Territorial board outlined a graded course of study for the rural schools, which has since been put in active operation by the various county superintendents. This course of study graduates into the high schools and the preparatory departments of the higher institutions of learning. Last year over 700 students took the examination; about 312 passed. Since the system was inaugurated some 1,332 pupils have graduated. Our cities have first-class graded schools, equal in efficiency to those of cities of corresponding size in older states. Laws authorizing township and county high schools are upon the statutes. So far none have been organized. It is hoped that every county will organize a county high school at an early date. A few comparative statistics will show the rapid growth of the public-school system. In 1891 there were 9,395 pupils enumerated; in 1900, 114,737. In 1891 there were 438 teachers employed; in 1900, 2,343. In 1891 the estimated value of school property was $12,085; in 1900, $760,972. In 1891 there were 109 schoolhouses; in 1900, 1,930. In 1891 there were 358 school districts sustaining schools; in 1900, 2,096. In 1891 the amount received for school purposes was $44,664, while in 1900, $774,176 was received.

In Oklahoma the district-school system prevails. The district school is managed by a school board consisting of a director, clerk, and treasurer, each of whom holds his office for a period of three years. The district board has charge of the schoolhouse, of the finance of the district, employment of teachers, provides the necessary apparatus, doing all those things which will promote the interest and efficiency of the school. In July each year there is an annual meeting in each district at which a member of the school board is regularly elected, the length of school term determined, and the amount of annual tax voted.

The qualifications for teachers are similar to those required by the States. Examinations for applicants to teach in the rural schools are held quarterly under the direction of the county examining board, consisting of the county superintendent and two associate examiners appointed by the county commissioners. Three grades of county certificates are issued—first, second, and third grades. The first grade is good for three years, the second for two years, and the third for one year. Under certain conditions temporary certificates are sometimes issued. A normal institute lasting from three to six weeks is held in each county annually. A three years' graded course of study has been outlined by the Territorial board of education and introduced by the county superintendents. Graduates of this course of study are given normal-institute diplomas. Teachers who hold first-grade certificates, normal-institute diplomas, and two teachers' reading-circle certificates are granted high-class professional certificates by the county examining boards.

The average length of school term last year was four and one-half months. In Pawnee county the average length of term was six and one-half months. As the wealth of the people gradually accumulates the length of the term increases. Throughout Oklahoma a system of separate schools has been planned and is now maintained. The advantages of the races are, however, identical. Our schools are free, and a uniform system of text-books has been used for ten years.

In each county there is a teachers' association, which usually meets monthly. At these meetings educational topics are discussed by the teachers and patrons of the schools. There is also a Territorial teachers' association which meets annually, usually during the Christmas holidays, at some central point.

"Books are the negative pictures of thought and the more sensitive the mind that receives their images the more nicely the finest lines are produced."

The Legislature, by enactment, has made provision for a library in every school district. Each year a stipulated sum is set aside to increase the library. Very many of the districts are accumulating a list of most excellent books for general reference and for literary study. The county examining boards recommend a list of suitable books and the district boards and teachers make selections therefrom. In each county there are also teachers' and students' reading circles. Pedagogical and general culture books are recommended by the Territorial board, which the teachers study.

Oklahoma has looked well to her schools. Foreigners who are contemplating moving to Oklahoma will find that the system now in vogue is equal to the best system in the land.

Our people are enthusiastic and our teachers ambitious to lay well the foundation for a great public school system and build thereon a magnificent superstructure worthy of a great State. Without hesitation I commend its efficiency and completeness.

HIGHER INSTITUTIONS OF LEARNING.

The people of Oklahoma were not content with inaugurating during the Territory's first year of existence one of the best systems of public schools in the nation, but at the meeting of the first Territorial Legislature, when the Territory was not yet half a year old, they located and founded a Territorial university, a normal school, and an agricultural and mechanical college. Commodious buildings were soon erected at each of these institutions, and many students took up the work of the various classes during the first year. Later a provision was made for the establishment of a second normal school at Alva, and for an agricultural and normal university for colored students alone, and the present legislative assembly at its recent session provided for a third normal school and for the establishment of a university preparatory school at a point in the Territory distant from the university itself.

Thus has Oklahoma early in her history taken a stand in the front ranks of higher education. These Territorial institutions of learning are all opened free to students from all parts of Oklahoma and from the Indian Territory as well, and are all in a flourishing condition, accomplishing excellent work and with bright prospects for the future. The aggregate attendance in these institutions during the past year was 1,887, and it will be greatly increased the coming year and each succeeding year, as the youth of Oklahoma come to realize and appreciate more fully the magnificent educational advantages offered them by the Territory.

OTHER SCHOOLS AND COLLEGES.

There are a number of sectarian and private schools in the Territory, the most prominent of which are the Congregationalist College at Kingfisher, the Sacred Heart College in Pottawatomie county, and the Baptist College at Blackwell. The attendance at the Congregational College has been about 125 the past-year, and with the addition of some new buildings it is expected to increase during the coming year. The new building for the Baptist College at Blackwell has recently been completed. The Sacred Heart College suffered severe loss by fire during the past year, but is again ready to continue the good work that it has carried on for many years. The Catholics have a college for girls at Guthrie and one for boys at Ponca, the Friends an academy at Stella, Woods county, and the Presbyterians an academy at Newkirk.

There are several excellent business colleges in the Territory, and most of the leading denominations conduct mission schools on the Indian reservations.

UNITED STATES INDIAN INDUSTRIAL SCHOOL AT CHILOCCO.

Chilocco Indian Industrial School was opened for pupils January 1, 1884, the original building, now known as the "Boys' Home," having been erected in 1883. Its location is upon a reservation containing 8,589.33 acres in Kay county, Okla., bordering upon the Kansas State line, about 6 miles nearly due south of Arkansas City, Kans.

The institution has prospered during its eighteen years' of existence, so that the plant now consists of a group of over 30 structures, 10 of which are large and substantial stone buildings, mostly lighted by electricity and heated either by steam or hot water from a central station, with all modern conveniences, such as hot and cold water, school apparatus, machinery, tools, and furniture. The stone used in their construction is the durable and handsome magnesian limestone quarried upon the reservation, and the styles of architecture are simple and neat, admirably adapted to their use. Additional buildings, including a roomy and well-appointed dairy barn, hospital annex, 5 employes' cottages, granaries, etc., are frame structures. The superintendent's new stone residence, a stone storehouse having nearly 3,000 square feet of floor space, the electric lighting system, and the ice-manufacturing apparatus, as well as the installation of 2,000 feet of cold-storage space, are among the important improvements recently added.

The school is preeminent as the best equipped institution in the Indian service for imparting a practical knowledge of agriculture so much needed by the majority of Indian boys. As an index of the character and extent of its work in agriculture lines, it may be stated that farm operations during the month of June just closed included, among numerous other things, the threshing of 1,929 bushels of oats and 3,622 bushels of wheat. The corn crop last year was 5,000 bushels. Immense quantities of hay (about 2,000 tons the present year) are harvested, and grazing is afforded for about 600 head of cattle. The dairy herd, during the quarter ending June 30, produced about 5,000 gallons of milk, all consumed upon the premises. The large and well kept orchards, vineyard, and nursery, as well as vegetable and flower gardens, afford means of practical instruction in all these closely related lines. Considerable areas are devoted to alfalfa, broom corn, kaffir corn, millet, and sorghum.

The shop or indoor industrial work covers instruction in blacksmithing and horseshoeing, wagon and carriage making, carpentry and cabinet making, shoe and harness making, painting, paper hanging, broom making, printing, tailoring, stonecutting, masonry, plastering, engineering (including electric), steam and water plumbing, and the domestic arts—such as sewing, dressmaking, baking, cooking, housekeeping, laundering, etc. Instruction rather than money-making is the object of the industrial training, and the aim of all is to graduate Indian youth equipped for successful competition with youth of any race or color.

The regular school course comprises the usual branches as far as the tenth grade, under competent instructors, the requirement being that each pupil devote half a day to academic work and half a day to some industrial line. Music is not neglected, and daily practice is given in military tactics. There is a circulating library of over 1,000 volumes especially selected to meet the requirements of this class of pupils. Books, tuition, board, and clothing are furnished free of charge to Indian children between the ages of 5 and 18. The enrollment the past year reached 450, a figure somewhat in advance of the estimated capacity of the school. The average attendance was 398, in the proportion of 250 boys to 150 girls. About 40 tribes are represented.

The school is reached by rail over the Santa Fe and "Frisco" lines, both of which have flag stations upon the reservation, and there is a postoffice at the school.

OTHER INDIAN SCHOOLS.

In addition to the Chilocco Industrial Training School the Government maintains 14 reservation boarding schools and 1 day school for the Indians of the Territory.

Most of these schools are in fine brick or stone buildings, equipped with every convenience and appliance, and manned by an efficient corps of instructors.

These schools and their attendance the past year are given as follows:

Boarding schools:

Absentee Shawnee	111
Arapahoe	124
Cheyenne	142
Fort Sill.....	157
Kaw	69
Osage	180
Otoe	82
Pawnee	134
Ponca	169
Rainy Mountain	98
Cantonment	163
Red Moon	52
Riverside	161
Sank and Fox	88
Seger	122

Day schools:

Whirlwind	25
-----------------	----

Total attendance 1,748

In addition to the Government schools for the Indians, there are 5 mission schools conducted by religious denominations. One of these is at Cantonment, in the Cheyenne and Arapaho country, conducted by the Mennonite Church. It has an enrollment of 61 the past year. The other 4 are all connected with the Kiowa Agency, and are St. Patricks, conducted by the Catholic Church, with an enrollment of 77; Mary Gregory Memorial, conducted by the Presbyterian Church, with an enrollment of 25; the Cache Creek, conducted by the Reform Presbyterian Church, with an enrollment of 50, and the Methvin, conducted by the Methodist Episcopal Church South, with an enrollment of 76.

The religious societies conducting these schools receive from the Government for the Indian children therein the regular rations in clothing to which the children are entitled as reservation Indians. Five school districts in the Territory have availed themselves of the Government offer to pay $10 per capita per quarter for each Indian scholar attending the public schools in the Territory, two of the districts being in Pottawatomie and one each in Blaine, Cleveland and Canadian counties; the total attendance in the 5 districts being 23.

SCHOOL LANDS.

Oklahoma sprung from an Indian waste into a matured territory; its settlers from the first day of its settlement being alert business men, experienced citizens, alive to the immediate and future needs of a progressive, educated people and a prosperous commonwealth. Thus one of the first propositions was the permanent endowment of the public schools of the Territory, and provision for a fund which would insure the erection of such public buildings for state and school as would inspire within its people a feeling of permanency and stability, and remain as monuments to intelligence and art.

In original Oklahoma—Beaver county and the Cheyenne and Arapahoe, Iowa, Sac and Fox and Pottawatomie reservations—there were reserved only the regular school sections 16 and 36 in each township; in the Cherokee Outlet besides 16 and 36, sections 13 were reserved for the higher institutions of learning and sections 33 for public buildings. In the Kickapoo county sections 16 and 36 were reserved, and also a large area of land in lieu of these sections in the Osage and other reservations. In Greer county and the Kiowa, Comanche and Apache and Wichita reservations, four sections in each township were reserved as they were in the Cherokee Outlet.

Indemnity lands have at various times been selected for lands lost by allotment, reservation, and other causes, and at the present time there are about 2,050,000 acres of public lands held by the Territory in trust for the future State of Oklahoma.

On application to Congress by Governor George W. Steele, authority was given (act March 3, 1891) to lease the lands under the supervision of the secretary of the interior. Congress (by act approved March 4, 1894), created the board for leasing school lands, to be constituted of the governor, secretary and superintendent of public instruction of the Territory under the rules prescribed by the secretary of the interior, until such time as the Legislature of the Territory should make other provision, which has not yet been done.

The areas of land selected in a body in the Kickapoo reservation, in 1895, in lieu of school lands in the Osage and other reservations has been very unsatisfactory and a source of much annoyance to the Territory, and of hardship to the people of that section, the entire absence of taxable land in many school districts composed wholly or in part by indemnity lands in many school districts, and even by whole townships proving a barrier to the proper conducting of schools and other important interests of the community. The last Legislative assembly extended some relief to school districts composed wholly or in part of indemnity school lands, by providing that 15 per cent of all rentals from the school lands in the district be paid by the Territory to such district. This enables them to carry on their schools, but a general unsatisfactory condition of untaxable property still prevails, and if by some procedure the Territory could relinquish these lands back to the Government and secure again the lands in the Osage and other reservations, which were given up when these large tracts were selected, it would be a benefit to the whole Territory, and an act of justice to the communities in which these indemnity lands are located.

A very material addition to the school lands and the school land fund in the Territory has been made during the last few months by the acquisition of the Kiowa, Comanche, Apache, and Wichita and Caddo reservations and the reservation for common schools of sections 16 and 36, and for universities, colleges, normal schools and public building purposes, sections 13 and 33 in each township, unless reserved or allotted, and the selection of lands in lieu of these sections lost from various causes.

INDEMNITY LANDS.

In the two reservations lands reserved and allotted amounting to some 105,000 acres. In lieu of these lands it was necessary under the act of Congress for the governor to select from the public lands before the same were thrown open to settlement, the number of acres which were lost. I found the time during which these selections could be made very limited, owing to the fact that Congress had fixed the time which this land was to be thrown open, and had prescribed that the president should by proclamation give notice and that before proclamation could be issued the lands should be surveyed and the Indians allotted.

It was therefore necessary to make the indemnity selections between the time that the allotments and reservations were approved by the secretary of the interior and before the proclamation of the president. The time being thus so limited I found it necessary that these selections should be made in the city of Washington after a general view of the country and critical examination of each piece of land so selected. If the lands had not thus been selected it would have been impossible to have secured them and the Territory would have been at considerable loss, as it hardly seems probable that there will be opened or added to this Territory any further reservations in which so large a body of land could be secured.

The reservation made by the president and designated as the Wichita Forest Reservation, was made subsequent to the time of selecting the lands lost in the other reservations in the Kiowa country, and was made at such late date that it was impossible to select lands in lieu of those lost in this reservation. The Territory is entitled to some 6,000 acres in place of those so lost.

In addition to the above, the Territory is still entitled to about 7,000 acres of lost land from various causes.

Immediately upon the securing of these lands preparations were made for their leasing. The board for leasing school land, profiting by the experience in leasing of the Cherokee Outlet, concluded that these lands should be viewed and an accurate report made on each quarter section and a rental value placed on each piece, this appraised rental value to be in proportion with the same quality of lands in other adjacent parts of the territory.

BIDDING FEATURE.

After appraising the lands at a fair rental value, provision has been made whereby the lands shall be advertised and subjected to competitive bids, and each tract shall then be awarded to the highest bidder for a term of three years, that amount which the applicant bids over the appraised value to be paid in cash and to accompany the application. The balance of the rental is to be paid in the same manner and time as the rental of other lands are rented for less than their value and an equality and correct ratio for rental is preserved.

In selecting indemnity lands care was taken to make a proper distribution, so that school districts will not suffer eventually by the loss of taxable property. These lands will be leased when in a grazing district by sections or tracts or more than sections, according to the land and the supply of water.

RAILWAYS.

In the beginning the railway preceded the settler, the town builder, and the production of crops in Oklahoma, and though the Territory as a whole has today excellent railway facilities for reaching outside markets and sources of supply, yet so rapid has been the growth and development of sections of the Territory remote from railway connection that the railway growth has not kept up to their needs.

Oklahoma has four great railway systems, reaching into or across the Territory, while several independent lines are in operation or construction.

The Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe Gulf line crosses the eastern portion of the Territory from north to south, with the Eastern Oklahoma branch from Guthrie northeast to Stillwater and Pawnee, a branch from Guthrie west to connection with the Rock Island at Cashion, and the Ponca City branch from Ponca City, northwest, via Blackwell and Medford, to Hutchinson and other Kansas points. Their Panhandle branch also extends across Woods and Woodward counties, in the northwestern portion of the Territory.

Parallel with the Santa Fe about 40 miles west, the main north and south line of the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific Railway extends across the Territory, while a branch from Chickasha, Ind. T., to Mangum, Greer County, reaches much of the southwestern portion of the Territory. There is also a branch from Anadarko to Fort Sill; one from Enid northeast to Billings, and one from Enid northwest to Watonga, to be extended soon to Anadarko. The El Paso branch of this line also passes diagonally across the central portion of Beaver county.

The Choctaw, Oklahoma and Gulf road crosses the Territory from east to west not far from its central portion, coming from Memphis on the east, and being rapidly constructed to Amarillo, Texas, on the west.

The St. Louis and San Francisco road enters the Territory from the northeast, extending across Lincoln and Oklahoma counties to Oklahoma City, while a branch enters the northern part of the Territory from Arkansas City to Blackwell.

These lines give the Territory direct connection with the Gulf ports on the south, Kansas City, Omaha, St. Louis, Memphis, and other great markets to the north and east, to river rates at Memphis and Fort Smith, and to the Rockies and the main routes to the Pacific on the west.

The Choctaw and Northern road is building from Geary north across Blaine and Woods counties to Anthony, Kans.

The Blackwell, Enid and Southwestern line is in operation from Blackwell southwest to Okeene and building on toward Vernon, Texas.

THE PRESS.

Oklahoma owes much to the press of the Territory and of the Nation, and no people show their appreciation of the power and advantages of the public press more than do the people of the Territory.

With the first day of the Territory's settlement came the daily newspaper, and from that day to this every community in the Territory has had its newspaper and other publications, until to-day the Territory has a larger percentage of daily and weekly publications than the majority of the states in the Union, and the people are also liberal patrons of the outside newspapers and magazines.

BANKS AND BANKING.

The banking business in Oklahoma has been a very profitable one, and the attention of bankers and capitalists from all parts of the nation has been attracted to Oklahoma as a most alluring field for embarking in the banking business.

There is no longer a town of any importance in the Territory but has its bank, and two or three are found in towns where a year ago one was deemed sufficient. In one or two instances banks have been established in rural communities where there was scarce a semblance of a town.

Yet the rapid growth and development of the Territory, the building up of new lines of industry and business on every side, the abundant crops, the extensive building operations, etc., have made business for all these banks, and their reports show them to be in a sound and flourishing condition, with unusually large deposits of money from farmers and all classes of citizens.

The Territorial banking law is an excellent one, and the banking commissioner has general supervision over all of the banks in the Territory. Quarterly reports are required upon call of the commissioner, who also examines all of the banks several times a year, and has authority to close any bank he deems in an unsafe condition.

Oklahoma has had but one bank failure in four years.

The new national banking law allowing national banks to organize with a capital stock of $25,000 resulted in the organization of a number of additional national banks in the Territory, all of which are in a flourishing condition.

With the developing of the Territory and the establishing of new towns, comes the opening of new banks. Oklahoma has never had as many banks in her thirteen years of history as at the present time, and the end is not in sight. Almost every day there are applications made at the office of the secretary of Oklahoma for charters for banks to be established in new towns. In many cases these charters are received before the towns are started owing to the desire to be first—and shut out others figuring on the same proposition.

Along the lines of railroads now being constructed are many new towns springing up. Charters are taken out for banks in these towns as soon as it is definitely known when and where the towns will be located. In certain instances, charters have been asked for, when the name of the towns were not definitely known and the charters had to be changed, after they were issued, in order that the articles of incorporation might be correct. The capital stock varies between $5,000 and $10,000; rarely more than the latter figure. It is sometimes increased if the town grows rapidly and the amount of business calls for an increase. The men behind such banks are usually Oklahoma men, already interested in banks and desirous of enlarging their business.

Almost phenomenal has been the increase in the banking business during the past year. Not only is this true of the new country, but old Oklahoma as well, and every town in which there is an opportunity for the establishing of a successful bank is carefully looked over by banking men.

These new banks are not run loosely, but everything is taken into consideration that would at all effect the bank's interests. As the railroad building continues the opening of new banks will be carried on, and for the length of time she has been a Territory, Oklahoma will be in a position to compete for first honors.

INVESTMENTS, PUBLIC AND PRIVATE CREDIT.

Oklahoma is an inviting field, not alone for the investment of capital in manufacturing and commercial properties, but offers rare opportunities for investment in lands, mortgages, bonds, and other private and public securities.

The rapid advance in farm values, the building up and growth of towns and cities, have made land investments in the Territory very profitable in the past and still greater advances seem certain for the future.

Territorial warrants, which four years ago sold at 80 cents on the dollar, now being par, and county and other municipal bonds, which then went at 90 cents, now command a premium. The city of Guthrie recently floated $100,000 of 5 per cent bonds at a premium, one of her home banks taking the whole issue.

Winne & Winne, of Wichita, Kans., financial correspondents of the Union Central Life Insurance Company, in a recent communication give their opinion of Oklahoma investments and securities as follows:

We consider Oklahoma farm mortgages first class, and are making all the desirable loans that we can get. During the past five years have loaned nearly, if not quite, $400,000 to the farmers of Oklahoma. We have not a single default at the present time in the payment of interest that is at all serious, and have never taken a foot of land in Oklahoma in foreclosure. The most serious trouble we have had with our Oklahoma loans has been that the farmers take advantage of the prepayment option which we grant them and pay off their loans long before we want to see our money back.

In addition to making farm loans, we have handled municipal bonds of a number of counties and a good many school bonds. These have been uniformly satisfactory to ourselves and to our clients.

Our past experience has been such that we are loaning more freely than ever before, and are recommending Oklahoma securities to our clients with greater confidence than ever. In our judgment there is no better loaning field to be found in the United States to-day than can be found in Oklahoma. The soil is fertile, the rainfall sufficient, as a general rule, to produce large yields, the climate such that crops can be greatly diversified, corn, wheat, oats and cotton often growing on the same farm. The country has been settled long enough that we know what to expect in the future by the results attained in the past, and we feel that the placing of money in Oklahoma is no longer an experiment.

The Deming Investment Company and other investors give equally flattering opinions, and Shepherd & Co., of New York City, large dealers in bonds and securities, state:

We have handled more than half a million dollars of bonds issued by the Territory of Oklahoma, and by the counties, cities and school districts in said Territory. Our experience with such securities has been eminently satisfactory. Payments of interest and principal have been regularly made, and at the present time there is not a dollar of interest in default on any Oklahoma securities that we have handled.

This is a better experience than we have had with an other section of the United States. We doubt whether such a statement could be made in regard to any other State or Territory.

The laws of the Territory are especially favorable to outside investors. The legal rate of interest is 7 per cent when not otherwise specified or contracted for, and in judgments interest runs at the rate named in the contract.

The mortgages of outside investors are exempt from taxation in the Territory.

It requires from three to eight months to complete foreclosure proceedings, and when deed is issued there is no redemption.

SUCCESSFUL FARMING.

Adaptation, diversification, and organization are the secrets of successful farming anywhere, and so great is the range of possible products in Oklahoma that with proper adaptation to soil, location, and surroundings, intelligent diversification, and organization to secure good markets and prices, success can be assured and the profits of farming greatly augmented.

So great is the range of products here that no matter how unfavorable or variable the season a farmer can be sure of some of his crops, and when the seasons are generally favorable—as they have been for four years past—he is sure of all and prosperous in proportion.

Nowhere else in the United States can the three great staples of wheat, corn and cotton be successfully grown upon the same quarter section of land with a half dozen or more other farm products on the side, as well as a full quota of garden vegetables, and an orchard laden with luscious fruit and patches filled with berries.

Why shouldn't the Oklahoma farmer be prosperous and contented? Is it any wonder he is envied by the people of other States? Is it any wonder that people come from every community in the nation to better their condition in Oklahoma?

Our present exceptionally prosperous condition, as shown by our farm and city improvements and money in banks, is due to agriculture alone. Our mining and manufacturing is but beginning to be developed.

LIVE-STOCK INTERESTS.

For many years previous to the opening of the country to settlement the broad prairies of the Territory were alive with herds of cattle and horses. The mild climate, the rich and nutritious grasses, and the abundant water made this one of the most profitable feeding grounds in the nation. None can wonder that the cattlemen were loth to give it up, and left no stone unturned to retain first all and then the various parts of the Territory for pastures for their herds. The large pastures of the Territory have been practically all broken up, however, and from this on the live stock will be produced upon small ranches or on ordinary farms, and the secret of success of stock raising will be an improvement in the character of stock and intelligent feeding for market.

The abundant hay and fodder crops of the Territory, the corn, cane, and kaffir fields, with cotton and other products which afford cheap feed for finishing cattle for the market, makes stock raising a most desirable and profitable occupation in the Territory. The farmers, as a rule, are learning by experience that the successful farmer is he who keeps enough stock to consume a large portion of his products; marketing his corn, cane, and fodder on foot.

HORTICULTURE.

Though still classed as a new country, Oklahoma has developed along the lines of fruit growing until Oklahoma fruits are recognized as of superior quality in most of the markets in the country. Enough has been done already to make it certain that Oklahoma will grow as fine fruits as can be produced anywhere. The thing that remains to be done to make of the Territory one of the greatest fruit sections of the world is to produce the fine fruits that are now shown in limited quantity so largely that they can be shipped in car lots to all of the fruit markets of the country.

A general encouragement of fruit growing in all its branches by horticultural and kindred societies, fairs, and exhibits will result in great good to the Territory.

Our people now feast upon the very finest fruits from their own orchards and gardens; fruits that if shipped out in quantity would produce a sensation in every market reached.

The number of fruit trees planted in the Territory runs up in the millions, and orchards are being planted on every side.

In many towns the people have planted fruit trees so largely on their residence lots that the whole town appears to be an orchard in fruit season.

While the Territory will grow almost all varieties of the various fruits adapted to the Temperate Zone, and some of a tropical variety as well, time is showing those which can be produced most profitably on a commercial scale. Some made the mistake of planting too largely varieties that did well at their former homes in some distant State, without question as to adaptability to soil and climate found here; others lost time in planting trees sold them by dishonest tree salesmen, which would not produce here or any place else; but with all these drawbacks the fruit growers have been remarkably successful.

Trees grow here about eight months in the year, attain large size in incredible short space of time, and come to bearing from two to five years sooner than they do in the Northern and Eastern States.

A number of large nurseries located in the Territory grow the finest trees, supplying almost the entire demand of the Territory and shipping many to other States.

FREE HOMES.

The passage of the free homes law by Congress has been of untold benefit to Oklahoma.

When original Oklahoma was opened to settlement in 1889 the lands were all free to settlers who homesteaded and lived upon them five years, but when the Sauk and Fox, Kiowa and Pottawatomie lands were thrown open two years later a price was fixed which the settler would be required to pay before he secured title, even though he complied with all the requirements of the homestead law. The same procedure was followed in the opening of all subsequent tracts of lands in settlement in the Territory. The settlers upon the various tracts were not satisfied with this provision, believing it to be an unjust discrimination and contrary to the spirit and intent of the homestead law. As early as 1892 local organizations were formed here and there in the Territory looking toward the agitation of this subject and finally bringing it to the attention of Congress, but it was not until 1894 that the movement became general over the Territory. In that year the Republican party of the Territory took up the question and made it an issue, declaring, through its speakers and its candidate for Congress, Hon. D. T. Flynn, that the people were entitled to free homes as a matter of right and justice, and promising every possible effort in behalf of such legislation.

In February, 1895, at a free homes convention called at Perry, a Territorial Free Homes League was organized, and the Legislature, which was in session at that time, made an appropriation of $500 to further the object of the league, which was to agitate the matter of free homes and bring it so strongly to the attention of Congress that legislation would be enacted giving to all the homestead settlers of Oklahoma their full rights and privileges under the old homestead law.

In 1896 the free-homes agitation had reached a point to become recognized as a national issue, and a plank was inserted in the national platform of each of the three leading parties declaring for free homes for settlers on all public lands, but it was not until May 14, 1900, that the measure finally passed both houses of Congress and became a law, through the united efforts of the Senators and Representatives from all the public-land States, among whom Hon. D. T. Flynn, Oklahoma's Representative, was recognized as the most active and efficient worker for this measure, which he had been first to propose and which had received his devoted attention for several years. Previous to this a bill had passed the House in 1896 and the Senate in 1898, but in neither case could passage be secured through the other branch, though strenuous efforts were made by the friends of the measure both in Congress and out.

The passage of this bill has saved to the homesteaders of Oklahoma $15,000,000, which would have been paid to the government and lost to the Territory. The money has been put into houses and barns and live stock, into comforts for the family, and implements for the better care of the farm and the production of crops, and has been a prominent factor in bringing about the general conditions of prosperity prevailing throughout the Territory.

A second result has been the attraction of immigration to the Territory. The taking of all price off the government lands in western Oklahoma has attracted the attention of settlers from all parts of the country, who during the year just ended have filed upon 1,200,000 acres of land and taken up their homes thereon.

A third result has been the rapid proving up of homesteads in all of the free-homes country and a consequent large increase in area of taxable land.

The following table shows the land taxable in each county of the Territory in 1900 and 1901, and the increase of the latter year over the former:

This increase results in a lower tax rate in most of the counties and also an increase in the general revenue fund of the Territory, so that all obligations can be met and the Territorial debt decreased.

MANUFACTURING.

The United States Census Bureau recently issued a bulletin upon the manufacturing industries of the Western States and Territories, in which it was shown that there were in operation in Oklahoma in 1900 868 manufacturing establishments, as compared with 72 in 1890, employing 2,055 men, as compared with 147; having $3,352,064 capital invested, paying $807,826 in wages annually, and turning out manufactured products to the value of $7,082,338.

And yet the manufacturing industries of the Territory are but in their infancy, for the opportunities are so great here for the establishment of manufacturing establishments of various kinds that it seems certain that at no far distant time large communities will be built up and maintained by groups of factories producing many articles needed in the Territory and converting our natural products into the finished ones demanded by commerce to supply the needs of other sections of the nation. While we have machine and car shops, flouring mills, cement works, ice plants, creameries and cheese factories, planing mills and sash factories, stone quarries, brickyards, cotton compresses and gins, and canning, harness, and cigar factories, there is still an inviting field for the extension of these allied industries in every part of the Territory.

There are about 200 cotton gins, half a dozen cottonseed oil mills, and 3 cotton compresses, but the great cotton crop of the Territory offers opportunity for cotton mills at several points.

Salt is manufactured in Woods, Blaine, and Greer counties, but enough salt could easily be produced here to supply the nation.

Cement is manufactured in Kay, Elaine, Canadian, and Greer counties, but the cement beds of the Territory are inexhaustible.

The great granite quarries of Greer, Kiowa, and Comanche counties will some day give employment to thousands.

The great herds of the Territory offer opportunities for the establishment of tanneries and factories to use up the leather products, packing houses, and kindred industries, while on every hand is offered every inducement for the starting of small manufacturing establishments to grow with the needs of the Territory.

GENERAL GEOLOGY OF OKLAHOMA.

Oklahoma, with the exception of the northeastern portion, consists almost wholly of the so-called red beds, with thin deposits in places of the Cretaceous and Comanche. The age of the red beds has long been in dispute, but the discovery of fossils, both vertebrate and invertebrate, by the members of the Territorial geological survey has settled the matter quite definitely in favor of the Permian.

The surface rock of the red beds consists for the most part of sandstone, varying in texture from a coarse, rotten shale to a hard, fine-grained sandstone, and immense areas of gypsum. This sandstone occurs in almost every county in the Territory, and is used largely for foundations and similar building purposes.

The gypsum outcrops as great ledges, extending entirely across the Territory. One important series is exposed along the bluffs on the south side of the Cimarron from the Kansas line to the Glass Mountains, then bearing to the south gradually leaves the river, capping the bluffs which rise west of the Cimarron Valley.

In many places the soluble gypsum has yielded to the action of running water, and immense caves, tunnels, natural bridges, and fantastic forms have resulted. Some of these caves harbor thousands of bats, and the guano that has accumulated sells at a very high price as a fertilizer.

As far back as 1852 Marcy, in his explorations of the Red River, said that the discovery of gold in the Wichita Mountains would attract more attention, but that the discovery of the large gypsum beds would be worth more than the gold. The supply is practically inexhaustible, and with better means of transportation and the introduction of improved processes in the manufacture of plasters, cements, and fertilizers, must prove of great commercial value.

There are three principal salt areas in Oklahoma: The Saline Reservation, about 25 miles east of Alva, in Woods county; the Salt Plains of the Cimarron, about 30 miles west of Alva, in Woodward county, and the plains of Salt Creek, in Blaine county. Each of these regions furnishes a local supply of salt, while at the Blaine county works several thousand pounds are manufactured daily. Were it not for the almost unlimited supply of salt in Kansas this industry would receive an immediate development on a large scale, and with means for transportation there is no reason why salt should not be manufactured here, in competition with Kansas, at a good profit, as the cost of evaporation is practically the only one connected with the development of this industry.

In the northeast portion of the Territory, in Kay and Pawnee counties, in addition to sandstone of good quality, there are large areas of limestone. Recent tests have shown much of this to be a very superior quality of building stone.

From its geological position, and from the results of investigation Oklahoma must be regarded as an agricultural and grazing country. It is somewhat remarkable that its political boundaries should so nearly coincide with its geological. In the Indian Territory on the east an abundance of limestone, coal, oil and gas might be expected. In Oklahoma, except in the northeast portion, limestone is almost wholly absent, while the other products mentioned are so far below the surface that their presence can be detected only by deep borings.

In the region of the Wichita Mountains, however, there is promise of various minerals in paying quantities, gold, copper, lead, and manganese ores being the ones most often mentioned in connection with this region. As it has been impossible thus far to make any systematic explorations in this districts, the whole question is still problematical.

FUEL, LUMBER AND BUILDING MATERIAL.

While coal has been found in limited quantities at a number of points in the Territory, a very little of it has as yet been mined. The proximity of the immense beds of the Indian Territory, however, keeps the price of fuel at a very reasonable figure. Coal ranges from $2 to $8 per ton, and wood averages $3 per cord. The native timber of the Territory includes oak, elm, walnut, pecan, hickory, cedar, cottonwood, etc., and considerable timber is cut from them.

The building material, coming direct from the forests of Arkansas and Texas, is generally sold at a reasonable figure, and the quarries of the Territory produce an abundance of good building stone, while excellent brick is manufactured in nearly every county.

Deposits of building stone are found in nearly every county in the Territory, some of the stone being of the very best quality. From the quarries near Newkirk, Ponca, and Chilocco, in Kay county, is taken some of the very best building stone to be found in the West. In the Wichita Mountains and their spurs are found a number of varieties of granite, some of which are not excelled anywhere. The granite quarries of the Territory will some day be noted, and it is probable that when the Territory comes to construct its capitol building that it can be built wholly of Oklahoma granite.

A fair quality of marble is also found in Blaine county, and at a number of places in the Territory are immense deposits of cement, and a large cement works near Okarche is turning out many train loads of the finest cement for building purposes. Cement is also manufactured in Kay county, Lincoln county and Blaine county. Many other deposits await development.

The gypsum of Oklahoma also affords excellent building material, and the beds of clay in various parts of the Territory offer inducements to the manufacture of both building and paving brick.

TERRITORIAL INSTITUTIONS.

UNIVERSITY OF OKLAHOMA.

Norman, O. T.

The University is founded upon the authority of an act of the legislature of the Territory of Oklahoma entitled "An act to locate and establish the University of Oklahoma." The act provided that when $10,000 and 40 acres of land be donated to the Territory by the City of Norman, the institution should be located at that place. These requirements having been met, the University was established at Norman in 1892. The University is supported by a general tax of one-half mill upon each dollar of valuation on the assessment roll of the University. In addition to this, section 13 in each township in what is known as the Cherokee Outlet was reserved from settlement for university, normal school and agricultural college purposes in the proclamation of the President of the United States opening these lands to settlement. The lands so reserved have been appropriated for the above purposes by act of Congress and have been leased for the benefit of the institutions named. The university organization consists of the following schools: 1. College of Arts and Sciences; 2. Medical School; 3. School of Pharmacy; 4. School of Music; 5. Preparatory School.

The College of Arts and Sciences embraces classical, philosophical, English and scientific courses, which lead to the degrees of A. B. and B. S. The School of Medicine covers the first two years work of a regular four years' medical course. The School of Pharmacy provides two years' work leading to the degree of pharmaceutical chemist. The School of Music embraces a preparatory course, a teacher's course, an artist's course and a graduate course at the completion of which certificates to that effect are granted by the University. The Preparatory School covers a three years' course leading to the freshman class.

The total enrollment in the different schools of the University for the past year was 333; number of instructors and officers, 27. D. R. Boyd, president.

AGRICULTURAL AND MECHANICAL COLLEGE.

Stillwater, O. T.

The Oklahoma Agricultural and Mechanical College was established and located at Stillwater by an act of the Territorial legislature which took effect December 25, 1890, accepting the provisions of the Federal statutes in aid of colleges for the benefit of agriculture and mechanic arts. The town of Stillwater was required to vote bonds in the sum of $10,000, and to provide not less than 80 acres of land. The bonds were voted and 200 acres of land provided.

The past year has been one of continued growth for this institution. Its enrollment of students reached the gratifying total of 404. The equipment for instruction, exclusive of buildings, represents a valuation of $71,968.51. The faculty consists of 20 members. The new library and chemistry buildings were occupied throughout the year, greatly relieving the crowded condition of the previous year. The department of domestic economy was duly installed and most successfully conducted throughout the year.

The resources of the college amount to something over $50,000 a year. Of this $37,500 comes from the Government to the college and experiment station (Morrill and Hatch funds, respectively), and the greater portion of the remainder from the Territory. The last legislative assembly appropriated (by a levy on the taxable property of the Territory) approximately $54,000 for additional buildings. This will be devoted to the erection of an auditorium, a mechanical hall, a barn, and quarters for the departments of botany and entomology and of domestic science.

Five regular courses, each covering four years, and leading to the degree of bachelor of science, are given—the general science and literature course, the agricultural course, the mechanical engineering course, the chemistry course, and the biological course (with majors in botany and zoology). Students of mature years may elect special work under the direction of the faculty. A two years' preparatory course is offered. Special courses are given in stenography, typewriting, and printing, and a special short course (eight weeks) is given during the winter term in agriculture and mechanic arts.

Our people are gradually getting over the erroneous impression that the instruction in this institution is devoted almost wholly to agriculture and the mechanic arts. While special and thorough courses are given in these lines, the scope of the work is far broader. The institution gives also approved training in the English language and literature, in German and Latin, in biology, in chemistry, in domestic economy, in political science and history, in higher mathematics, etc.

The agricultural experiment station is connected with this institution and a department of it. Its work is devoted solely to experimentation and the publication of results, though incidentally it affords a valuable source of illustration, and a stimulus to students in every branch of science.

As in all of the Territorial institutions, tuition is free in all departments. Students are charged an incidental fee of $1 per term, and textbooks cost but from $2 to $4 per term.

A. C. Scott, president.

THE TERRITORIAL NORMAL SCHOOL

Edmond, O. T.

"The normal school of Oklahoma" was located and established at Edmond by legislative enactment in 1890, upon the conditions—which were promptly met—that Oklahoma county donate $5,000 in bonds and the town of Edmond donate 40 acres of land for a school site. Two thousand dollars additional in bonds was donated by the town.

Edmond is a thriving town of nearly 2,000 inhabitants, and is situated about midway between Guthrie and Oklahoma City, on the highest point on the Santa Fe Railway, and is preeminently distinguished for its healthfulness and for the beauty of its surroundings. It is distinctly a college town, its citizens having established homes here largely because the town is free from many of the vices commonly prevalent in county seat towns.

The main building of the normal school, built of brick, was completed in 1893; the wings, built of stone, were erected in 1894 and 1895. The entire building contains 15 class rooms and an assembly hall of 500 seating capacity. The model department, which will be opened this fall, is greatly in need of additional rooms.

The library and reading room is furnished with the best books and current magazines that the market affords. This is open to all students every day except Sunday. The laboratories—chemical, physical, physiological, and biological—are well equipped with modern appliances for scientific experimentation and investigation. A new telescope will be added to the department of astronomy.

The normal school is maintained through a Territorial tax levy of one-half mill and a fifth part of the rentals obtained from sections numbered 13 in the so-called Cherokee Outlet. To this will be added in the future a like part of the rentals which will be obtained from similar sections in the Kiowa, Comanche, Apache, and Wichita lands.

The special function of the normal school is to prepare young men and young women for the work of teaching. This result is accomplished, first, through thorough and liberal academic work; second, through the study of the child; third, through studying the philosophy of teaching, and fourth, through practice and training in the model school.

The diploma given to the student upon graduation is a five-year Territorial certificate, and is renewable by the Territorial superintendent of public instruction upon evidence of satisfactory work done in teaching.

Fifty-four students have within the past six years completed the normal school course of study, and hundreds of others are now teaching in the Territory who have received a partial training in this school.

The aggregate enrollment of the school for the decade of its history is a little more than 2,000, making an average attendance of 200 a year. The entire enrollment for the first year was 76; the enrollment for the year closing June 14, 1901, was 337. There is a fair prospect that the attendance for the ensuing year will be greater than in any former year.

Tuition is free in all departments.

The faculty consists of 15 members. F. H. Umholtz, president.

NORTHWESTERN NORMAL SCHOOL.

Alva, O. T.

This institution located at Alva, the county seat of Woods county, a flourishing city in the northwestern portion of the Territory, was founded by the legislative assembly in 1897 and opened in September of that year by its present executive and two lady assistants, with an enrollment of 166 students. The teaching force of the institution now embraces 15 educators of standing and ability, with an enrollment of 600. The college building is a commodious one, well adapted to the present and future needs of the school and ranks among the best educational structures in the West. T. W. Conway, President.

LANGSTON UNIVERSITY. Langston, O. T.

The colored agricultural and normal university was established by the legislature in 1897. The citizens of Langston, where it is located, donated 40 acres of land. During the past three years the regents have added 120 acres more, making in all 160 acres now owned by the school. Three buildings have been erected at a cost of about $15,000. The main building contains the library, the auditorium and the recitation rooms. The building used by the young women as a dormitory contains the boarding hall and the department of domestic economy. The mechanical building has rooms for mechanical drawing, machine work, carpentry and blacksmithing. These buildings have been partially equipped with furniture, library books, scientific apparatus and machinery for the industrial department at a cost of $12,000. The faculty consists of 9 teachers and 1 matron, who is in charge of the young women's dormitory. The number of students enrolled at the close of last school year was 192, of whom 87 were males and 105 females. Inman E. Page, President.

SOUTHWESTERN NORMAL SCHOOL.

By legislative enactment, approved March 8, 1901, provision was made for the location and establishment of a normal school to be known as the Southwestern Normal and to be located at some point in the southwestern portion of the Territory, selected by a commission of five, to be appointed by the Governor. The bill also provided for the levying of a tax which will produce a fund of about $50,000 for the erection of a building for this institution.

UNIVERSITY PREPARATORY SCHOOL

This institution was provided for by recent legislative enactment, to be located at Tonkawa, Kay County. A very desirable location was presented the Territory by the people of Tonkawa and plans adopted for the building of the school, which cost about $20,000. J. H. Kelley, President.

COMMERCIAL LAWS OF OKLAHOMA.

Acknowledgements may be executed before a judge or clerk of the Supreme or District Court, mayor of city, register of deeds, justice of peace, notary public, etc.

Assignments may be made to one or more assignees in trust for creditors; the condition can be made by which any creditor is to have preference over any other. Assignments must be in writing, subscribed by the assignor or his agent duly authorized in writing and must be acknowledged and recorded with an inventory of assets, liabilities, debts and property exempt and not attached, filed within twenty days after the date of assignment in office of register of deeds.

Attachment may be had at the time of filing of complaint on the usual process, when defendant, or one of several defendants, is a foreign corporation or a non-resident of the Territory, and the order of attachment shall be issued on these grounds for any claim other than a debt or demand arising upon contract, judgment or decree, unless the cause of action arose within the limits of the Territory: when the defendant, or one of several defendants, has absconded with intention to defraud his creditors; has left the county of his residence to avoid the service of summons; so conceals himself that a summons cannot be served upon him; is about to remove his property, or a part thereof, out of the jurisdiction of the court, with the intent to defraud his creditors; is about to convert his property, or a part thereof, into money for the purpose of placing it beyond the reach of his creditors; has property or rights in action which he conceals; has assigned, removed, or disposed of, or is about to dispose of, his property, or a part thereof, with the intent to defraud, hinder or delay his creditors;

fraudulently contracted the debt, or fraudulently incurred the liability or obligations for which suit is about to be or has been brought; where the damages for which action is brought are for injuries arising from the commission of some felony, misdemeanor, or seduction of female; when the debtor has failed to pay the price or value of any article or thing delivered, which, by contract, he was bound to pay upon delivery.

Chattel mortgages must be signed by the mortgagor in the presence of two persons, who must sign the same as witnesses thereto. A mortgage of personal property is not valid as against creditors and subsequent purchasers or incumbrancers in good faith unless the original or an authenticated copy is filed in the office of the register of deeds of the county where the property is situated, and ceases to be valid as against creditors and incumbrancers after three years from date of filing unless filed anew thirty days before the expiration of that time, with a sworn statement of the amount of the existing debt for which the mortgage is a lien. Conditional sale notes must be recorded the same as chattel mortgages. The usual punishment for removing, concealing, destroying or disposing of goods.

Corporations—Private corporations may be formed for the transaction of lawful business. The corporation acts are very liberal. To do business in the Territory a foreign corporation must file a copy of its charter with the Secretary of the Territory and appoint a resident agent upon whom service of summons may be had.

Courts—The Supreme Court of the Territory has general appellate jurisdiction, and consists of seven judges appointed by the President of the United States. The District Courts are courts of general jurisdiction, and have and exercise the same jurisdiction in all cases arising under the Constitution and laws of the United States as is vested in the Circuit Court of the United States. The Probate Court has probate jurisdiction in civil cases where the amount does not exceed $1,000. Justices of the peace have jurisdiction where the amount does not exceed $100.

Exemptions—The following property is exempt to the head of every family residing in the Territory from every species of forced sale for the payment of debts. The homestead of the family (not in a city, town or village), consisting of 160 acres of land in one tract, with all improvements thereon. The homestead in a city, town or village, consisting of one acre with the improvements thereon.

The following personal property is exempt: All household and kitchen furniture; all implements of husbandry used upon the homestead; all tools, apparatus and books belonging to or used in any trade or profession; all family portraits and pictures and wearing apparel; five milch cows and their calves, under six months old; one yoke of oxen and two horses or two mules, and one wagon, cart or dray; ten hogs and twenty sheep; all provisions and forage for home consumption and for use of exempt stock for one year.

There is also exempt to every old soldier, sailor or marine, all pension money belonging to him subsequent to December 24, 1890.

Interest—Contracting parties may obligate themselves to pay twelve per cent interest. Parties contracting for a greater rate than twelve per cent may forfeit all interest, but no part of the principal. When there is no rate agreed upon, seven per cent is the legal rate. All judgments bear interest at the same rate as specified in the contract, provided the same shall not exceed twelve per cent. When no rate is specified in the contract, seven per cent is the legal rate.

Limitations—Real actions, five years; an action upon any agreement, contract or promise in writing, five years; oral contracts, three years; foreign judgments, one year.

Married women may sue and be sued without joining with their husbands; contract and carry on business, and own all their separate property free from their husbands' debts, the same as a single woman. Females become of age at eighteen. Aliens have the same property rights as citizens.

A married woman may dispose of her separate property by will without her husband's consent, and she may alter or revoke a will the same as if single.

Anadarko

Metz J W Lumber Co.
Razey S C, blacksmith.
Wells W M, general store.

ANADARKO.

Population, 6,500. Is remarkable for its rapid growth. Where the city proper now stands was in August, 1901, an Indian farm. Evidences of this are not yet entirely obliterated. It is situated at that point on the Mangum line of the Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific Ry., where the Lawton spur branches off. The Wichita river winds circuitously around two sides of the city at a radius of about one mile. The U. S. Agency, presided over by Lieut.-Col. James F. Randlett, is built on the river bank, just north of the town. This has been an Indian trading post for over 50 years. About $10,000 are paid out annually in salaries alone to the agency employes, which include 40 Indian police. Rations to the amount of $500,000 or their equivalent, are also here served to several thousand Indians. The agency Indian school across on the north side of the river has enrolled upon its books several hundred full blooded Kiowa children. Its industrial department is training the youths in agricultural and mechanical pursuits. Anadarko is the county seat of Caddo county. The town site sold at the opening for $186,644.00, all of which will be spent here. The soil is mostly as good as can be found for production of cotton, corn, wheat, oats, rye, alfalfa and other hays. It is as fine a fruit country as there is in the world. Foot hills, well wooded, surround the town at a distance of one to three miles, affording good fuel and fencing materials. In these mountains an unlimited supply of hard and soft building stone is found, while two large brick kilns are being operated on the city's south boundary line. Commercially Anadarko is without a peer (considering its age) in the two territories, both as regards the number of its business stands and the amount of its business transactions. All church denominations have good edifices. The Methodist, Baptist, Presbyterian, Episcopalians and Roman Catholics have well established Indian mission schools in or near the town. A 75-ton ice plant, a planing mill, a broom factory, a wind grist mill, two steam laundries, two banks and every conceivable line of retail mercantile establishment can be found represented on its principal business streets. Wholesale grocers are needed. Also capital for a water works. The city is close enough to the river to make this a simple problem. And the need of fire protection is felt in a pronounced degree. Anadarko is promised a north and south line of railway, and being in a sense a gateway to the newly opened territories, has a very bright future. Exp. U. S. Tel., W. U. W. R. Dutton, postmaster.

APACHE.

Population 1,200. Is located in Cad-do county on the Lawton Loop of the C. R. I & P Ry and about half way between Anadarko and Lawton. Four miles east of here is the Keeche Hill Pasture Reserve. The surrounding country is well under cultivation. Box Elder Creek runs through the edge of the town and joins Cache river one-quarter mile to the west. A brick yard and lime kiln are doing a thriving business. And these, together with a red stone quarry, have been used to good effect in furnishing material for some handsome bank buildings and business blocks which adorn the main streets of the town. There is room for investment in almost every line of business here and the farmers in the immediate vicinity of the town are growing steadily richer every day. A weekly newspaper, The Week's Review, is published. Tel., W. U. Exp., U. S. Telephone connection. Charles D. Campbell, postmaster.

tion of the Blackwell, Euclid & South Western Ry. with the Kansas City, Mexico and Orient Ry. Four miles due south of here the Choctaw, Oklahoma & Gulf runs east and west, the station at the nearest crossing being called Washita. The county of Arapahoe was opened for settlement April 19, 1892. And is probably about as fine an agricultural country as can be found in western Oklahoma. Arapahoe has a National and a State Bank. A number of small but thriving business stores. A large public school and an M. E. Church. For picturesque scenery the hills and valley of Custer County have long been thought unsurpassable and with the rain fall experience of the oldest settler, the chance of crop failure is too remote to be feared. Openings present themselves in Arapahoe for a first class hotel, a livery stable and most of the mercantile lines. Has Christian, Methodist and Presbyterian Churches. Exp., W. F. & Co. Telephone connection. J. W. Lawton, postmaster.

Population 900. An incorporated town situated in Noble county, at the terminus of a branch of the Rock Island Ry system, 30 miles northeast of Enid and 26 miles west of Perry, the county seat, first settled in October, 1899. The surrounding country is very productive and thickly settled and Billings enjoys an extensive trade. Wheat is the principal product, 500 carloads having been shipped from this point the past season from its four grain elevators. There are extensive stone quarries in the vicinity, and stone from same has been used extensively in the construction of its business houses and leading residences. There are also many brick buildings. The K. P. building, used also by the Masons and Oddfellows, was recently completed at a cost of over $10,000, and is used exclusively by these orders. The press is ably represented by the News and the Times, both weekly. Two banks, two hotels, a brick plant, opera house, many well-stocked general stores and special lines. Good public schools and churches of the Methodist, Baptist, Presbyterian, Christian and Catholic denominations. Daily stage to Bliss, 26 miles east, via Burton, Owens and Polk, and to Compton, southeast, via White Rock. Tel., W. U.; also long distance telephone connections. Exp., United States. C. R. Population, 8,000. The county seat of Canadian county, is located on the Choctaw, Oklahoma & Gulf, and Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific Railway—28 miles west of Oklahoma City, and 158 miles south of Wichita, Kansas. It is supported by a rich agricultural section, where wheat, oats, cotton, rye and barley, clover, alfalfa and other grasses are grown successfully. The city is up-to-date, having many brick and stone buildings from one to four stories high. It has a splendid system of water works, electric light plant, an excellent fire department, banks, 2 daily and 4 weekly newspapers, 4 good hotels, 1 cotton compress, a creamery, 2 foundries and machine shops, 2 bottling works, 3 brick yards, opera house and public library, 2 large flouring mills with a capacity of 150 barrels per day, four grain elevators and other small manufacturing industries. There are twelve fine church edifices, representing various religious denominations. There are fine wide streets and handsome residences. Within four miles of the city is Fort Reno, the great historic military post of the Indian Territory. The United States Land office is located here. It is also the center of the Second Judicial District of the United States Court. Only six miles from here is the Cheyenne and Arapahoe Indian Agency, with its Indian schools, and other points of interest. It has telegraph and telephone facilities. Exp., U. S. and W. F. & Co.  ship, Canadian county, 16 miles west of El Reno, the county seat, and 9½ from Calumet, on the C., O. & G. R.
 R., the nearest banking and shipping point. Maily daily. Martin Day, postmaster and grocer.

ENFIELD.

A rural postoffice in Logan county, 12½ miles south of Guthrie, the county seat, banking and shipping point.
 Mail, daily.

ENID.

The county seat of Garfield county.
 Is one of the most prosperous cities in Oklahoma, third in population, and the largest city on the Rock Island System in Oklahoma or Indian Territory.
 It is also a division point of the Frisco System, with their extensive machine and repair shops and roundhouse, giving employment to a large force of skilled mechanics with a monthly pay roll averaging over $50,000 distributed at this point. There are other railway lines building to Enid—the Denver, Enid & Gulf and Arkansas Valley &

 Western—and four others surveyed, which will afford ample railway facilities second to no city in Oklahoma and encourage many additional manufacturers and wholesale houses to locate here; owing to its advantages as a distributing point and enviable location for a larger city. The town site of Enid and the land surrounding was opened to settlement on Sept. 16, 1893, and was all taken up in a few hours. Unlike the town sites in original Oklahoma, Enid was platted and streets, alleys and public squares were reserved before the opening, thereby avoiding part of the confusion incident to the opening of new towns, and being located in the banner agricultural county of Oklahoma, and backed up by the aggressiveness of popular business men and the unceasing efforts of the Enid Commercial Club the growth has been beyond the most sanguine expectations, until now she has a population of 8,000 prosperous citizens, enjoying good homes, constant employment and a fine climate. Enid has two large flouring mills, seven grain elevators, an extensive bridge and structural iron plant, one cotton gin, one broom factory, one ice plant, a complete telephone system, with lines running in all directions, thereby connecting Enid with Kansas City and all towns in every direction, an electric light plant, three daily and five weekly newspapers, twelve churches, five public schools, one business college, ten wholesale houses, five hotels, four banks, brick court house, a large brick opera house, a system of water works, a foundry and machine shop, three bottling works, a steam laundry, planing mill, sash and door factory, a steam brick manufactory and two brick yards, fine brick business houses and all kinds of mercantile businesses being represented. Enid has over 1,000 children attending school daily, besides a large number in attendance at her business college. The people of Enid are of that substantial, enterprising and generous class that makes a community solid and insures a sturdy and permanent growth. The business streets are lined with substantial brick blocks, and the residences are of the latest designs and of the class familiar to our large eastern cities, with parks here and there through the city. The land around Enid produces the finest flour wheat in the world, and sells on the market for more money than wheat grown farther north. 5,000,000 bushels of wheat raised in Garfield county in 1900. Oats, corn, barley, rye and other grains do equally as well. Fruit and all kinds of vegetables are grown here successfully and at a great profit. Stock of all kinds, horses, cattle and hogs, are raised here and fed throughout the year on green feed. Our native grass, which is very nutritive in the summer, and our wheat fields in winter keep our stock in good growing condition the year round. There is no country in the world where the wheat sown in September, as ours is, will permit the pasture of stock all winter until the following March without injury to the wheat. Thereby we save the cost of grain usually fed to stock through the winter months in other sections; and our stock is raised and sold at large profits. The county is watered by Turkey, Skeleton, Black Bear, Otter, Spring and Coldwater creeks. The soil is unsurpassed in fertility, and there is an abundance of moisture for all agricultural purposes. It is readily seen that no better country than this can be found for the settler with small means, and where the advance in land in the near future will make a handsome profit. GUTHRIE.

Population, 15,500. The capital of Oklahoma, is the seat of Territorial Government, with officers of the Governor, etc., U. S. Marshal, U. S. District Attorney, U. S. Land Office, etc., and is the county seat of Logan county. Its location is high, dry and healthful. Situated on an elevation above the Cottonwood River valley 2½ miles from the confluence of the river with the Cimarron. The city's commanding position not only gives it beauty as far as its attractive surroundings are concerned, but one that is capable of fine drainage, and is an ideal spot for the larger city it is destined to become. In point of commercial importance it will easily rank first in Oklahoma. Its railroad facilities completed and in course of construction, and with other lines contemplated, and self interest will compel them to connect here, thus making this the greatest railroad center in the southwest, assuring the construction of railway machine shops, giving employment to large forces of mechanics. It is the division point for the A., T. & S. F., C., O. & W., Ft. Smith & W. M., K. & T., D., E. & G., Eastern Oklahoma and the Rock Island system, giving this city close communication with all points north, south, east and west. This is a wholesale point for a large territory and a shipping point through which the large surplus of wheat, corn, produce, fruits, cattle, hogs, flour, broom corn, cotton and cotton-seed oil products are distributed to other markets. Its jobbing interests are extensive in many lines, including groceries, produce, hardware, dry goods, millinery and general merchandise, and among its manufacturing interests are extensive cotton seed oil mills, cotton gins, flour mills, brick plants, an ice plant, a creamery, planing mills, foundry and machine shops and carriage factories. A system of water works owned by the city and an electric light and power plant.

The press is ably represented by 10 weekly and 2 daily papers. The Oklahoma State Capital (morning), and The Daily Leader (evening). There are 5 banks with a combined capital and surplus of over $200,000, and with total deposits exceeding $2,500,000. The city is substantially built with brick and stone office buildings and business houses; has a new city hall, erected at a cost of $75,000, the Carnegie Public Library, the finest library building in the southwest, costing over $25,000, and an opera house that is the largest and best appointed this side of Kansas City.

The A. & A. Scottish Rite Temple, located here, is a large, beautiful structure, costing with the equipment $60,000. This Rite has 430 members in the jurisdiction comprising Oklahoma and the Indian Territories. This Temple is one of the few buildings in this country devoted exclusively to Masonry. The bodies yield allegiance to the Supreme Council, A. & A. S. Rite for the Southern Jurisdiction of the United States. Harper Samuel Cunningham, 33d Active, is the Inspector General of Oklahoma and Indian Territory. Charles Arthur Cunningham, 32d, is the Secretary of all the bodies.

All leading secret societies and benemany elegant private residences on the principal avenues and scores of new and modern residences are in course of construction, thus contributing to the comfort and ease of the citizens. The business section also is being constantly added to by new and modern brick and stone buildings that will be a lasting credit to the city.

Guthrie is known as the convention city of Oklahoma, and being a political as well as a business center, it naturally attracts citizens from all parts of Oklahoma at all times of the year, and more especially during the biennial sessions of the legislature, and the sittings of the Supreme Court. Its enficiary orders are well represented here and have large and flourishing memberships.

In educational advantages the city has good public schools, occupying commodious brick buildings; also the Capital City Business College, which has been very successful during its number of years' establishment here. St. Joseph's Retreat, a preparatory school in charge of the Sisters of the Catholic Church, occupies a large brick building built especially for this purpose, on spacious grounds in the western part of the city. There is also a school for the deaf and dumb. Churches of all leading denominations are represented here and the majority occupy fine church edifices. There are valuable location and unsurpassed natural advantages and wide-awake, progressive, enterprising citizens and the successful efforts of its commercial club in promoting its interests in the past and present, all combine to assure the future of Guthrie, the leading city of the great southwest. HARRISON.

Population 500. This flourishing little city is located on the C., R. I. & P. Ry., in the northeast corner of Kiowa county, 14 miles northwest of Hobart, the county seat. It is about 15 miles north of the famous Raney mountain range of the Wachita mountains. It is surrounded by fine farming lands. The annual rainfall according to government report is 40 to 50 inches. This is substantially evidenced by the general prosperity that prevails in the country roundabout. In 1901, when the Middle States suffered from severe drought, 30 and 40 bushels of corn per acre was raised here. Choice quarter section farms may still be bought for from $2,500 to $3,000. Has a bank and a weekly newspaper, the Gazette. Tel., W. U. Exp., U. S. Telephone connection.

Population, 5,000. The county seat of Kiowa county, is located at the crossing of the C. R. I. & P. and the B. E. and S. W. Rys. The town site was selected and opened for sale simultaneously with those of Anadarko and Lawton. It has been called the Basin City from the manner in which the surrounding prairie slopes up from it in all directions. The pub-lie square of Hobart, 320 ft. each way, is unbroken by the smallest hillock, and the greater portion of the city is almost as level. Around this square the principal business blocks have been erected. These are of a most substantial character. The streets leading from the Plaza to the rail-ways have also been lined with stores and offices. While the residents have built both pretty and commodious homes out to the edge of the city. The soil in this section is as fertile, if not more so, than in the neighboring counties, and is especially adapted to cotton and corn. Wheat, oats and barley are also successfully raised, and in fact every kind of cereal, vegetable or fruit that has been tested, yields most abundantly. The protecting hills shelter the town from the cold blast of winter. Hobart has a bright future, and when as old as towns in Kay county are now, it will probably have made greater progress. There are three National Banks, with promise of a fourth. Several wholesale and a large number of affluent retail establishments. A cotton oil mill, a cotton gin and corn mill and initiatory steps taken towards building a flouring mill and elevator. There are negotiations on foot for the establishment of an ice and electric plant. The price of real estate in town and vicinity averages well, and many inquiries are made for both farm and city properties. The Commercial is a good hotel. Tel., W. U. Exp., U. S. Telephone connection.

KINGFISHER.

Population 3,500. The judicial seat of Kingfisher county and the location of the United States Land Office for this district is advantageously situated at the junction of Kingfisher and Uncle John's Creeks, 5 miles south of the Cimarron river and on the C., R. I. & P. Ry., 25 miles north of El Reno, 30 east of Watonga, 35 west of Guthrie, 40 south of Enid and 357 southwest of Kansas City. The city is well laid out with wide streets and its business district is substantially built of brick and stone buildings, with numerous well stocked general stores and special lines. There are 3 banks, 2 flour mills, 8 grain elevators, ice manufactory, 2 machine shops, 2 brick yards, cold storage plant, electric light and waterworks system owned by the city, a grand opera house, 3 weekly newspapers, churches of the various denominations, good public school, occupying a fine 10 room brick building erected at a cost of $12,000 and employing 12 teachers. The Kingfisher College, under the auspices of the Congregational church, is located here in buildings erected at a cost of over $40,000 and the college is well sustained and takes highest rank in the higher educational institutions of Oklahoma. Kingfisher county is thickly settled and this city derives an extensive trade and it is considered to be the largest primary wheat market in the country, over 2,500,000 bushels of wheat have been shipped from here during the past two years. Besides there has been vast quantities of other grains, fruit, live stock, produce and poultry annually shipped from this point. There are 3 daily stage lines to the following: Kile, 20 miles northwest, to Omega, 17 miles west, and to Altona, 18 miles southwest. Exp., United States. Tel., Western Union. LAWTON.

It may require centuries to establish a great nation but Americans have shown that they can build a town in a single day. The north 1/2 of Sec. 31, Town 2 n., Range 11 w., was the place selected for Lawton's townsite. On August 6th, 1901, it could not be told by any distinctive feature from any other portion of a vast expanse of undulating prairie on which the grass waved waist high. Before night, however, many hundreds of the canvass houses along the two principal streets had commercial signs hung out and were able to report a thriving day's business. Night and day for months the din of saw and hammer never ceased until, in less than one-half a year there stands to-day a modern western city of over 10,000 souls. Lawton does not owe its existence to any of the ordinary physical characteristics that have helped to build towns up in years gone by. It was simply located by the Government for reasons of their own. The towns of Anadarko and Hobart, which were chosen at the same time, have advantages by their geographical position position which Lawton has not, and probably had the registration and drawing for claims in the new country been carried on in their precincts they would have made a similar showing. During the last week of July and the first week of August 160,000 people thronged to Ft. Sill and vicinity. After the drawing over two-thirds of them returned from whence they came and of the rest thousands surged like waves in every direction to hunt the spot of their choice. The greater number, however, steered for Lawton, and the future of a great city was assured. The Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific Ry. have built what is called a loop line from Anadarko south through Lawton and paralleling their main line to Texas. At Lawton this line forks in southeasterly and southwesterly directions. The St. Louis & San Francisco Ry have also built in here from the northeast, and several other roads are projected and surveyed. The whole country for miles around is dotted with new towns and settlements. These use Lawton as a distributing point. Cache creek runs three-quarters of a mile outside Lawton's eas line. The soil in the lowlands of the and other streams is very rich and will grow almost anything, whilst the ridges are adapted to the raising of a kinds of grain and fruits. Oil and gas have been struck just northeast of the town and evidences indicate an abundant flow. Many mineral claims have also been staked off nearby and filed upon. This country has long been the cattleman's paradise, and hay will always be a profitable crop for years to come. Lawton is the judicial seat of Comanche county, which is rated as county of the first-class and contains over 30,000 population. The city itself was incorporated soon after the opening and maintains a full set of city officers, including a most efficient police force. The Commercial Club has a membership of nearly 300. There are 4 daily and 3 weekly newspapers. Electric light plant and water works are under construction or contemplation. They have long and short distance telephones (the latter with over 500 subscribers). All the churches and secret orders are strongly represented. Lawton's public school system is as good as that of Oklahoma City and better than in any other of the territorial towns. There are 5 banks, 2 of them National, with deposits of over $750,000. Lawton welcomes every class of good citizenship without regard to trade or calling and the suggestion is made that Lawton is an

MANFRED.

A recently established postoffice in Kiowa county.

MANGUM.

Population, 3,500. The county seat of Greer County and the western terminus of the Mangum line of the C., R. I. & P. Ry., is situated on the south fork of the Red River, about 10 miles west of the main or north fork of the same and 50 northeast of Quanah, Texas. The U. S. Land Department have established a branch office here. The first settlers came here from Texas in 1884, but the country was not regularly opened up for homestead entry until the act of Congress of January 18th, 1897. Greer county is extra large, and almost all of it very rich and fertile. Cotton, wheat, oats, corn, milo, maize, sorghum, millet and in fact all staple crops produce in remarkable abundance, and fruit and vegetables do well. The whole county is finely watered with never failing creeks, and the average rainfall has been such as to make good crops of all kinds the next thing to a certainty. The mountains east of Mangum contain a supply of granite and other building stone in quantity sufficient to supply the world. Two cotton gins, a flour mill, an ice factory and other industries run at full blast in their respective season. There are 2 National and 1 State Banks, 3 weekly newspapers and a number of prosperous wholesale and retail stores. There are 2 large abstract offices and a number of lawyers and physicians. The Mangum Hospital is an institution that would reflect credit on a large city and draws patients from all sections for a radius of 100 miles around. All the principal churches and secret orders are strongly represented. Emigration of all classes of good citizenship is invited here with the assurance that few if any of the commercial or professional lines are overcrowded, which cannot be said of some of the towns of western Oklahoma. Good land can be had here at prices ranging from $5 to $15 an acre, and town lots from $1,000 up. Tel., W. U. Exp., Pacific. Telephone connection. W. C. Shadden, postmaster.

MOUNTAIN PARK.

Population, 900. Formerly known as Burford, is an incorporated town in the southwestern portion of Kiowa county and on the Blackwell, Enid & S. W. Ry, 30 miles south of Hobart, the county seat, banking and shipping point, and 5 miles east of Red River. The town site is surrounded on three sides by the rich farming lands of Otter Creek Valley, while 1/4 mile north of it Tenderfoot mountain stands out, an abrupt precipice nearly 1,500 feet high. At or near the southern town line the Oklahoma & Western Ry. crosses the B., E & S. line. Has Baptist, Methodist and Presbyterian churches, 2 banks and 2 newspapers. The name Mountain Park was derived from a park or grove of heavy timber, consisting chiefly of walnut, hackberry and elm trees, which grow on the banks of the Otter close by. Mountain Park owes its rapid progress chiefly to the wonderful fertility of the soil in the neighboring bottoms, which were rapidly taken up by settlers from every section of the continent, but chiefly by agriculturalists of experience in Texas and southern Oklahoma. None of the professional or commercial pursuits have been overcrowded here, as is found to be the case in some of the newly made towns of this and the surrounding counties. W. B. Poole, postmaster.

MOUNTAIN VIEW.

Population, 1,200. An important station on the Mangum Br. of the C. R. I. & P. Ry., 41 miles west of Chickasha. It is situated at the extreme south-eastern corner of Washita county, 25 miles from Cordell, the county seat. For the past 14 years (when the first farming was done in the immediate vicinity), the rich bottom lands in the valleys of the Washita River have yielded fine crops of wheat, cotton and corn. Eighty bushels of corn to the acre in good season is not only possible, but has actually been produced. The townsite after two attempts at location was finally moved to its present place on the summit of one of the Wichita Mountains, one mile north of the depot. The sublime view to be obtained from here of the surrounding peaks gave rise to its name. Recently when the county seat was moved from Cloud Chief to Cordell a number of the former thriving enterprises moved here. There are here most of the business lines that go to make up a complete town. Two cotton gins, a corn mill, a large brick yard and a cold storage plant. Each fully equipped, are kept very busy during the various seasons, and the railway officials testify to the fact that Mt. View has always been a heavy cattle shipping point. One weekly newspaper, 2 banks, long distance and local telephone service are every one doing a profitable business. The comfort of the traveling public is well looked after in the matter of hotel accommodations, either at the Calhoon Hotel or the City Hotel and restaurant. A very inviting prospect is held out in Mountain View for a flour mill, a cotton compress, an ice factory or a bottling works. The climate and mountain air is better than at many world-famed health resorts, and a large mineral spring near town has been found to contain properties that will cure skin diseases. H. Tel. W. U. 9 miles south of the Kansas state line and 76 miles north of Guthrie, the territorial capital. The country surrounding Newkirk is undulating prairie, very fertile, yielding large quantities of corn, oats, poultry, live stock and other products belonging to this latitude, but it is especially adapted to the raising of wheat, Kay being the banner wheat county of Oklahoma. There are a number of valuable stone quarries in the vicinity, from which both building and pavement stone are obtained. These yield a profitable return to the investor and give employment to labor. The town has five church buildings—Catholic, Christian, Congregational, Methodist and Presbyterian. It has a commodious school building of modern construction, where a well graded course of study has been established. On the public square, which belongs to the county, is a well built, frame court house, with fire proof vaults. It has excellent shipping and passenger service on the A. T. & S. Fe Railroad and a new line is being extended to the southeast. It has three banks. The leading secret and fraternal orders are represented. It has competing telephone lines, the Pioneer and the Missouri & Kansas. Tel. W. U. Exp., W. F. & Co. Marsh Lambert, postmaster.

NORMAN.

Population 3,300. The county seat of Cleveland county, the most beautiful, prolific, well-settled and advanced of any Oklahoma county. The gem of the west—is one of the southeast counties of Oklahoma, bounded south and west by the Chickasaw nation, separated from same by the South Canadian river, embraces 500 square miles, or 320,000 acres. The surface of the county is mostly prairie and slopes gently to the south and east to the Canadian river, to which its surface waters flow. Small streams are numerous, giving the land a rolling surface and a good drainage system.
 Thousands of acres of rich valley land and in fact no quarter section of the county but what is susceptible of cultivation and capable of producing a great variety of products. The famous winter wheat of the Dakotas flourishes beside the cotton plant of the fertile southern valleys. Norman is situated on the Santa Fe R. R., about 18 miles south of Oklahoma City, 49 miles south of Guthrie and 418 miles from Kansas City. It has one of the most important territorial institutions in the University of Oklahoma, which is well endowed with a permanent income from lands granted for its support, besides a biennial appropriation from the legislature. A new university building costing about $100,000 in course of erection will be completed this year and will be the largest and most expensive building in the territory. The city has good public schools, occupying two buildings, employing 16 teachers and with 1,000 scholars, also St. Joseph's parochial school, controlled by the sisters under the auspices of the Catholic church. Its business houses and office buildings are substantial brick and stone structures. There are 10 churches of the various denominations and numerous secret and benevolent orders. The territorial hospital for the insane is also located here. There are numerous hotels, among which the Hotel Agnes is a favorite with the traveling public. There are two banks, three weekly newspapers, opera house, library, cotton seed oil mill, artificial ice plant, a good system of waterworks owned by the city, large flour mill with 200 barrels daily capacity, three cotton gins, two grain elevators, numerous well stocked general stores and special lines, enjoying a prosperous trade. The principal shipments are flour, grain, produce, cotton and cotton oil products and live stock. Exp., W., F. & Co. Tel., W. U. Stage daily to Hico, 25 miles, via Franklin and Denver. J. J. OKLAHOMA CITY.

Population, 20,000. County seat of Oklahoma county. Lies on the north Canadian river and on the St. L. & S. F. Ry. (Frisco Line) A. T. & S. Fe O. & G. and Oklahoma City Western. The M. K. & T. is building to the city now, and other railroad companies are surveying through this point. It is 545 miles southwest of St. Louis, Mo.; 170 miles south of Wichita, Kansas, 215 west of Ft. Smith, Ark. and 205 miles north of Ft. Worth, Texas. It is the commercial metropolis of the Indian and Oklahoma Territories, as well as the leading distributing point on account of its railroad facilities and central location. Its rapidly growing jobbing trade covering several hundred miles of territory. The city lies in a rich agricultural country.

Only 13 years ago, upon the opening of Oklahoma Territory to settlement, Oklahoma City was founded and its marvelous growth and development in that time indicates a future destiny which will make it the most important city of the southwest. It has numerous wholesale enterprises, buildings from one to six stories high of brick and stone and many more buildings of costly design and modern architecture. The new Carnegie library, recently completed and now open to the public, one of the most important buildings just completed is the structure of the Curtis & Gartside Co., wholesalers of sash, doors, etc., their building being 80 x 170 ft.—four floors—of brick, and one of the largest in the territory. Among the other valuable commercial factors of the city are the N. S. Sherman Machinery Co., doing an extensive business throughout the territory. There are four National Banks and one Savings Bank, three flouring mills, with a capacity of 1,200 barrels, a cotton compress, cotton seed oil mill, two breweries, three machine shops, three iron foundries, broom factory, soap factory, two plating mills, two brick yards, a packing house, pickle factory, carriage and wagon works, trunk factory, five grain elevators, ice and cold storage plant, and numerous other small manufacturing enterprises. The city has first class hotels, the Hotel

PAWNEE.

Population 2400. Dating its settlement from 1893, is the judicial seat of Pawnee county and is located on the A., T. & S. Fe Ry., 73 miles northeast of Guthrie. Increased railway facilities will be afforded by the completion of the Arkansas Valley & Western Ry.

from Sapulpa, I. T., on the east, to be extended through this city to Perry and Enid on the west, while the Santa Fe extension will soon be completed, affording a direct line to Kansas City. The town site adjoins the land on which the Pawnee agency was located previous to allotment. Indian schools are conducted there in substantial two-story brick buildings erected by the government for the purpose. The city is pleasantly located on an elevation giving good drainage facilities and affording a commanding view of the surrounding country in every direction. It is lighted by electricity, has a fine system of water works, a thoroughly equipped and efficient fire department, telephone exchange, churches of the leading religious denominations, and one of the best public school buildings in the Territory, built of stone at a cost of over $20,000, with an enrollment of 600 pupils and employing 19 teachers. There is a handsome two-story county building in the center square of the city, an opera house with a seating capacity of 600, 3 banks, 4 hotels, 3 live weekly newspapers, 3 cotton gins, 2 compresses (1 round and 1 square bale), a large flour mill and grain elevator, an ice plant, etc. The shipments, which are large, embrace cotton, grain, broom corn, hogs, cattle, produce and fruit. Mail stages daily to Lela, Morrison, Sumner, Perry, Ralston, Filson, Masham, Skedee, Osage, Blackburn Valley, Bedford, Cleveland, Bryan, Crystal and Jennings. Tel., W. U. Exp., W., F. & Co. O. M. POND CREEK.

Population, 1,500. Dating its settlement from 1893, is the judicial seat of Grant county, and is located on the Salt Fork of the Arkansas river, and on the C. R. I. & P. Ry., 28 miles south of Caldwell, Kansas, and 300 southwest of Kansas City. Grant county is one among the extreme northern tier of counties adjoining Sumner and Harper counties, Kansas. It is 26 by 38 miles in area, containing 65,000 square acres of excellent land, mostly composed of rolling prairie, with nearly one hundred clearly defined water courses distributed throughout its entire area. The altitude is 1158 feet above sea level, which is a happy medium between arid plains and malarial marshes. The soil varies from a black waxy to a black and chocolate free loam, very rich in vegetable matter and easily tilled. The products of the county embrace cotton, corn of all kinds including Kaffir and broom, castor beans, oats, barley, rye, sweet potatoes, Irish potatoes, fruit, produce, live stock, cattle and hogs. Wheat is extensively grown. In 1900 there were 2,600,000 bushels of wheat harvested in this county and during the past year over 2,500,000 bushels were exported. The city has churches of the Baptist, Christian, Congregational, German Methodist, Methodist, Presbyterian and United Brethren churches, one of the best schools and school buildings in Oklahoma, employing 9 teachers, an opera house, local and long distance telephone facilities, a $25,000 water works plant, a fine brick court house, 7 fraternal societies, 2 banks, 5 hotels, a sanitarium, a flouring mill with a daily capacity of 400 barrels, 7 grain elevators, cigar factory, bottling works, 2 large machine shops, brick and tile works, etc. The press is represented by the Daily Vidette and 3 weeklies, the Grant County Vidette, the News and the Republican. Stages daily to Saltfork, Polk, Hillsdale, Coldwater, Karoma, Nashville, Jet, Milan, Timberlake and Helena. Tel., W. U. Exp., U. S. Money order office. M. L. Thomas, postmaster.

Population, 8,000. This prosperous city was first settled about 8 years ago and is located on the C., O. & G. R. R. and on the north bank of the North Canadian river in Pottawatomie county, 5 miles north of Tecumseh, the judicial seat, 45 from Oklahoma City and 75 from Guthrie. Within the present year two new lines of railway will be completed to beyond here. The new lines building, are the Santa Fe from Shawnee to Paul's Valley and the Ozark Central & Eastern, building from Fayetteville, Ark. to this city via Muskogee and Okmulgee, I.S. This place is a division point of the C., O. & G. R. R., and the repair and machine shops of the company are located here, giving employment to a large number of mechanics. The city is substantially built with many fine brick and stone business blocks and office buildings. There are 3 banks, extensive general stores and special lines, also numerous wholesale houses and manufacturing industries; among the latter are a cotton seed oil mill, artificial ice plant, a cotton mill for the manufacture of fabrics, foundry and machine shop, 2 planing mills, 2 flour mills, cotton compress, five cotton gins and a bottling works. The press is represented by 3 daily and 4 weekly papers. The city has good public schools, also a business college, churches of the various denominations and secret and benevolent societies, an opera house with a seating capacity of 1,000 numerous hotels, the principal of which is the Hotel Burt, electric lighting system, a perfect system of water works, local and long-distance telephone system. Daily stage lines to Chandler 30 miles north, and to Keokuk Falls, 24 miles northeast. The principal shipments are cotton, about 40,000 bales of which were shipped the past season, and cottonseed oil products, grain, live stock, produce and potatoes, the latter being an extensive industry here, one association having over 5,000 acres planted in potatoes, and requiring daily special trains to carry the product to eastern markets. STILLWATER.

Population, 4,000. The county seat of Payne county, is located on the eastern Oklahoma branch of the A., T. & S. Fe Ry., 50 miles east of Guthrie. The town site of Stillwater is a part of the tract known as Oklahoma proper, which was thrown open for settlement in April, 1889. At the first session of the Oklahoma legislature it secured one of the most important of territorial institutions, the Agricultural and Mechanical College, which is liberally endowed by the general government, and is further sustained by territorial appropriations. The college campus and experiment station grounds occupy 200 acres. Four main buildings are now occupied for the purposes of instruction and experimentation. The faculty numbers 24 professors and there are over 500 students. The city is pleasantly situated amid rolling prairies, and is surrounded by some of the most fertile lands in the territory. The county is thickly settled and the city enjoys an extensive trade. Cotton, grain, fruit, produce and live stock constitute its principal products of export. The city has a fine system of water works, a fire department and an opera house seating 1,000. The business houses and office buildings are mostly built of brick and stone, and there are many large, well stocked general stores and special lines. There are numerous churches of the various denominations and good public schools occupying commodious brick buildings. The press is ably represented by 4 weekly papers and one daily, and the Oklahoma Law Journal, a monthly publication. There are 3 banks, 6 hotels, among which the Hotel Youst is the recognized headquarters of the traveling public. There are 2 cotton gins, a large flour mill and grain elevator, ice plant, 2 brick yards, a planing mill and a wholesale grocery. Stage daily to Perry, 20 miles northwest, and to Perkins and Ingalls, 12 miles southeast. Exp., Wells, Fargo & Co. Tel., W. U. Also local and long distance telephone. W. N. Walker, postmaster.

WOODWARD.

Population, 1,500. The county seat of Woodward county, the largest county in area in Oklahoma, with one exception, covering 3,600 square miles. Was opened for settlement in 1893. The government placing the price of land at $1 per acre deterred many settlers from acquiring claims, and left the county to cattle men. The census of 1900 gave the population of Woodward county only 7,469. Since then the county has been rapidly settled by farmers, and the lands have proven equal to any in Oklahoma for agricultural purposes. The records of the U. S. land office, which is located here, show to-day over 10,000 homesteads filed in this county, and the majority of them filed since 1900, and as a result Woodward enjoys an extensive and rapidly increasing trade in all lines of business. Woodward is situated on the A., T. & S. Fe Ry., a division point, and on the North Canadian river, 412 miles southwest of Kansas City. There are a number of large, well stocked general stores and special lines, 5 hotels, 2 banks, one of which, the First National Bank, having a paid-up capital of $25,000 and deposits exceeding $135,000. The press is ably represented by 4 weekly papers, the Woodward News, Dispatch, Bulletin and State Republican; also the Live Stock Inspector, the official organ of the Oklahoma Live Stock Association. The county offices occupy a new brick building recently completed at a cost of over $40,000. The Pythian Opera House, a new two-story brick with a seating capacity of about 500. Good public schools, employing 5 teachers, with an average attendance of over 200. Churches of the Baptist, St. John's Episcopal and Methodist denominations. Fort Supply, 16 miles northwest, recently a government military reservation, embracing 1,300 acres, with numerous buildings and a good system of water works, has been offered by the government to Oklahoma for sanitarium purposes, with which there is a daily stage connection with Woodward. Stage also to Fitzgerald daily, and to Taloga, 50 miles southeast, via Lenora, Riley, Cestos, McNeil, Mutual, Persimmon, Hackberry and Detroit, with connections at Mutual for Seiling and connection at Riley for Camargo, via Bloomfield. The principal shipments are grain, cattle, hogs, produce and poultry. Tel. W. U. Exp., W. F. & Co. E. B. Roll, postmaster.

ADVANTAGES OF OUR SYSTEM

Perpetual

Dispenses with the annual transfer of ledgers. Once opened no further extra labor of the bookkeeper is required.

All Items of an Account

Are kept together, no matter what length of time the account covers, or how active it may be.

Live Accounts Only

Are retained in the Current Ledger. All filled leaves and closed accounts are filed in Transfer Ledger.

Quick Reference

The index being distributed through the Look admits of locating the accounts much more rapidly. No separate index necessary.

Saves Time Posting and Balancing

As only open accounts are dealt with, and these are all properly arranged and their position is always the same.

Arrangement of Accounts

Can be had as to locality, by states or salesman's territory, in alphabetical order, as to time of opening, or activity.

No Spacing Necessary

Each account is given a separate leaf. Active accounts can therefore have unlimited space.

Less Liability for Error

Accounts are more surely located, and with one account on each leaf the proper space is readily found.

Expansive

It admits of insertion of new accounts from time to time in proper place without disturbing any other.

Easily Handled

As both sides of the leaf are used for each account, a much smaller sized book can be used.

Facility

One or a dozen persons can work on the books at one time in taking off statements or posting or balancing.

Convenience

Of having a customer's account all together, saving time of bookkeeper looking through a lot of old ledgers.

Simplicity

A trial balance is more readily taken off. Tabulation or abstract is simplified and systematized.

Adaptability

Any business of any size, or any sudden change in activity, as well as any arrangement necessary, can be accommodated.

Economy

In every case it costs far less in the long run—less in material, less in time, less in labor.

OVER 23,000 BOOKKEEPERS NOW USING OUR LEDGERS TESTIFY TO THESE POINTS OF SUPERIORITY

SPECIAL LOOSE LEAF SYSTEMS

For the Purchasing Department

Requisition Order Systems in Manifold, Quotation Record, Cost Book, Purchase Record, Stock Report, Perpetual Invoice Filing System.

By the use of a number of these systems in combination, we not only accomplish what you now secure with your present methods, but in addition we give you an absolute check and instant reference as to goods ordered, en route and received; instant and accurate information as to the amounts owing; absolute certainty that accounts are correct, as you work with the O. K.'d invoice itself, and not with figures three or four times transferred from the original invoices; the assembling of all invoices for any one firm in one place; an absolutely flexible system that will work just as well with 50 as 5,000 accounts, which will save 25 to 50 per cent. of the amount of work done at present.

For the Sales Department

Order Blank System, Binders, Holders and Blanks; Manifold Order Books and Blocks.

We can create an Order System, suitable to any business, whereby the original order can be used for filing, shipping, billing and charging the order, and thereby eliminate all journalizing of sales.

Billing and Charging System.

Adapted to most any business — an invoice and journal entry being made at one writing.

Can be used either for typewriter or hand writing; produces an exact copy of every invoice.

Salesmen's Price Books, Route and Expense Reports, Advertising Information Reports.

For the Shipping Department

Safety Manifold Shipping and City Delivery Receipts and Books.

By the use of which errors in shipment are prevented and all possibility of loss through miscarriage eliminated.

For the Accounting Department

In this department we offer the greatest labor-saving systems known to accountants. We can create for any mercantile or manufacturing business a complete system on the loose leaf plan whereby a daily statement of the condition of the business can be procured as soon as the day's posting is done, making a monthly trial balance unnecessary.

Perpetual Ledgers — General Sales and Creditors.

Perpetual Trial Balance and Proof Books, Journal, Cash and Other Auxiliary Books

On the loose leaf plan facilitate, to a great degree, the work of the accountant. We also furnish

Bills Payable and Receivable Forms, Voucher Systems, Check Registers, Pocket Ledgers and Collection Reports.

Monthly Statement System.

Especially adapted to a credit business where an itemized statement is issued. By this system we save all itemizing in the ledger. It has many other commendable features.

Inventory System.

By which any number of clerks can work thereon at one time without the necessity of rewriting.

For the Manufacturing Department

We devise Special Factory Order Systems, Cost, Material and Labor Records, Time and Pay Roll Records, etc.

Factory cost accounting is one of our specialties, and we can provide a system by which an accurate account can be kept of all material, labor and expense, showing actual cost of each article produced.

For Banks and Trust Companies

Loose Leaf Systems have become generally recognized as especially suitable for Commercial and Savings Banks, and have been universally adopted for General Individual and Liability Ledgers, Journals, Receiving Tellers' Reports, Clearing House Reports, Discount Registers and Ticklers, Check and Draft Registers, Collection Registers and Ticklers, Minute and Signature Books.

Our Daily Balance Book offers many advantages over any other system of daily balancing. We have also devised many useful manifold forms for the Collection Department, saving time and labor.

Baker-Vawter Audit Department

Regular and Special Audits made for Corporations, Firms and Individuals. Financial and Physical Examinations by Experienced Auditors and Engineers. Takes Entire Charge of Corporation and Private Records, and Keeps Accounts of Executors, Guardians, Trustees and Receivers. Has Competent Practical Examiners for Banks, Insurance Companies and Other Financial Institutions.

A certificate from this company after a thorough examination is useful as a basis for credit, purchase or sale.

Complete Business Systems Devised

This Company makes a Specialty of Devising Complete Systems for Financial, Mercantile and Manufacturing Institutions, Employing all Well-known, Proven Methods and Appliances.

By means of these harmonious systems the results in each department are known in detail at the close of business. Accurate account is kept with all stock purchased and sold. By removing all friction between employees and departments, all work is greatly facilitated, and time and labor saved. Correspondence solicited.

BAKER-VAWTER COMPANY

OUR SECTIONAL POST BINDER

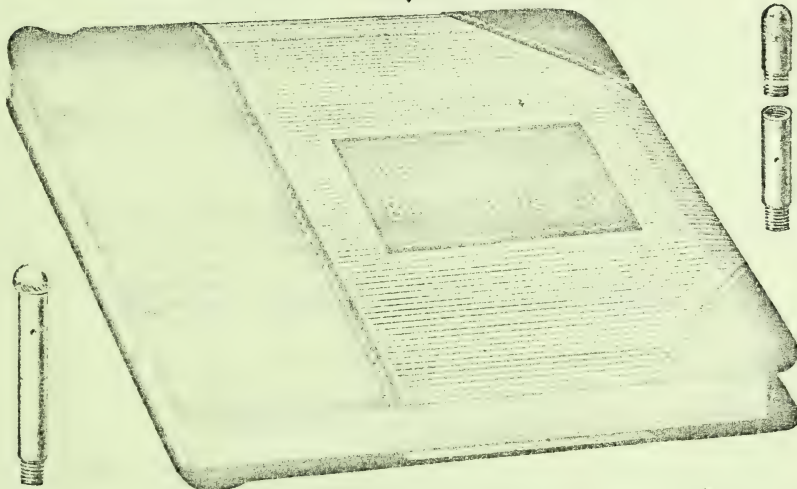

Holds securely one sheet or one thousand.

Has no long and unsightly posts projecting to catch on everything and be in the way.

Can be opened and expanded to receive leaves without removing the cover.

It is equipped with one-half and six one-inch sections for each post. It is particularly adapted for filing records of any kind that require indefinite expansion.

PATENTED MARCH 17, 1897. DECEMBER 19, 1899.

Securely Locked by mechanism in top cover.
Key-hole shown in lower left hand corner of cut.

We have 60 salesmen covering the entire country. If one is not located in your city, he can call on you in a few days if you will notify our nearest office.

We are the originators and manufacturers of the Perpetual Ledger and many other Loose Leaf Labor-Saving Systems.

INDIAN TERRITORY.

This Territory lies between the thirty-fourth and thirty-seventh parallels of north latitude, and the seventeenth and twenty-first degrees of west longitude, and is bounded on the north by Kansas and Oklahoma, on the south by Texas, on the east by Missouri and Arkansas and on the west by Oklahoma. The population of the Indian Territory, as shown by the United States census of 1900, was 391,960, divided among the different nations as follows:

Cherokee Nation	101,754
Chickasaw Nation	139,260
Choctaw Nation	99,681
Creek Nation	40,674
Seminole Nation	3,786
Modoc Reservation	140
Ottawa Reservation	2,205
Peoria Reservation	1,180
Quapaw Reservation	800
Seneca Reservation	970
Shawnee Reservation	297
Wyandot Reservation	1,213
The Territory	391,960

Of this number 84,750 are enrolled as members of the Five Civilized Tribes, as follows:

Seminole	3,000
Choctaw	20,250
Chickasaw	10,500
Cherokee	35,000
Creek	16,000

Much of the Indian Territory is similar to Oklahoma in respect to soil and general conditions and has the same agricultural and horticultural possibilities, with the addition of large areas of coal and timber.

Indian Territory cotton is rated as the very highest, and the Territory produced over 250,000 bales last year, and the wheat and corn crops are correspondingly large and of excellent quality.

The coal output of the Territory the past year exceeded 2,000,000 tons and the coal deposits are practically inexhaustible.

The country is only beginning to be developed in an agricultural and mineral way, and yet there is a great volume of business transacted, and a number of fine cities have sprung up, with business buildings and enterprises that would do credit to any State in the Union. The United States census shows 90 towns with a population of 200 or more, and the Dawes Commission has had 137 towns located by survey of outside boundaries and 55 of them completely platted. While the title to all of the land outside of the towns remains in the Indians and is as yet untaxable, a careful estimate, based upon official figures and personal inspection and investigation, puts the amount of taxable wealth in the Indian Territory at this time at about $25,000,000, as follows:

Railway property	$ 8,000,000
Town real estate	6,000,000
Mining, telegraph, Pullman and similar property	1,000,00
Capital stock of banks	2,000,000
Individual bank deposits	4,600,000
Stocks of goods, etc.	1,500,000
Personal property	2,000,000
Total	$25,100,000

This estimate is based upon the extreme low valuations at which property is returned for taxation in Oklahoma Territory, and is considered very conservative. Leading men of the Indian Territory in position to know whereof they speak put the valuation of taxable property there at this time at from $35,000,000 to $50,000,000. There are 1,415 miles of railroad in operation, and about 300 miles now under construction. The wealth of its soil, waters, forest and mines is practically illimitable, each succeeding year demonstrating the marvelous richness of its varied resources. It is a land of plenty, with railroad and water transportation and a magnificent country of great possibilities and certainties to the persevering and industrious and one which offers countless opportunities for all.

The members of the Indian tribes are well provided with education facilities. In these schools the children of the five tribes are cared for and educated, the cost of maintenance being borne out of tribal funds held by the United States government or from the proceeds of mineral lands. These schools, some of which are really magnificent structures, will no doubt ultimately become the property of the State and be open to all.

SCHOOLS IN INDIAN TERRITORY.

Kind of School.	Enroll-ment.	Average Attendance.	Receipts.	Expen- ditures.	Value of Build- ings & Grounds	No. of School
Indian boarding	2,202	1,650	$176,000	*$180,000	22
Indian day	9,907	5,838	159,000	400
Denominational	2,010	1,301	$ 48,088	48,527	225,000	15
Public (in cities)	8,258	4,301	59,079	52,909	56,653	19
Private	515	280	5,756	5,693	7,900	5
Total	22,892	13,370	$112,923	$442,129	$769,553	461

On March 3, 1893, Congress created the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes, commonly known as the Dawes Commission. The Commission is to allot all the lands in the Territory except such as is to be reserved for town site and public purposes to those who are citizen Indians. The citizen has to retain a portion of his allotment for a homestead, the balance can be sold at the expiration of five years, and he can sell all but the homestead any time after patent is issued upon approval of secretary of the interior.

SEMINOLES.

The reservation of this tribe, embracing 366,000 acres, has all been allotted. The members of the tribes can lease their allotments for five years, but cannot sell. Town lots are sold by the tribal authorities at Wewoka, the capital.

CREEKS.

The land is being allotted very rapidly to this tribe. There are 3,040,000 acres in the reservation, and 13,000 Creeks have already received their allotment of about 160 acres each. Forty acres will be a homestead inalienable for twenty-one years, but the balance they can sell as soon as they receive deed, with the approval of the Interior Department. After five years they can sell as they please without such approval. As soon as an allotment is selected it can be leased for one year, and as soon as deeds issue leases can be made for five years.

*$71,500, value of land belonging to Indian schools, not included.

There are no mineral reservations in this reservation, and a deed carries with it everything on or under the land.

In the towns owners of improvements on town lots can obtain the lots by paying one-half the appraised value, and all unimproved lots will be sold to the highest bidder.

CHICKASAWS AND CHOCTAWS.

These two tribes own their reservations in common. All the land, embracing 11,338,985 acres, has been surveyed and appraised.

Under the treaty made by the tribes the land is to be divided equally among the members, which will give each one about 380 acres. Each member must retain 160 acres for a homestead, and the balance of his allotment he can sell—one-fourth in one year, one-fourth in three years, and the balance in five years. As soon as allotments are assigned they can be leased for five years. All oil, asphaltum, and coal is reserved for the benefit of the whole tribes, the proceeds to be used in carrying on schools and other institutions.

In the towns, owners of improvements get one business lot and one residence lot at 50 per cent of appraised value, and other improved lots at 62½ per cent; all unimproved lots to be sold to the highest bidder.

CHEROKEES.

This tribe having failed to ratify a treaty, the Curtis law alone rules them. Under its provisions the 5,031,351 acres of the reservation are to be divided equally among the members of the tribe, and no land can be sold except in the town sites, where the improved lots go to the owner of the improvements at half their appraised value and the unimproved ones are sold to the highest bidder. All mineral rights are reserved for the common benefit of the tribe.

The Act of Congress approved June 28, 1898, commonly known as the "Curtis Act," has for its object the ending of the tribal form of government in the Indian Territory, and the common ownership of the lands of the Five Civilized Tribes. It places the financial affairs of the nation under the supervision of the Federal Government; provides for the abolition of the tribal courts and the appraisement and allotment of the surface of the lands in individual members of the tribe, first reserving land for towns, schools and other purposes; the mineral lands to be held in common and leased, the revenue to be turned over to the Federal representatives for use of Indians, and authorizes the organization of towns having 200 inhabitants or more to possess the powers and rights of similar towns in the State of Arkansas.

THE DAILY CITIZEN, | THE ARDMOREITE

R. S. W. PARKER, Editor and Propr.

The only morning paper in the Chickasaw Nation. Delivered to readers in interior towns on day of publication. We cover the Indian Territory, North Texas and Oklahoma. Advertising rates reasonable, furnished on application.

JOB PRINTING OF ALL KINDS NEATLY EXECUTED.

Subscription Rates $5.00 Per Year.

ARDMORE, - IND. TER.

DAILY and WEEKLY.

The only sworn statement of circulation among all the papers in the Indian Territory. (See the American Newspaper Directory.)

They have the largest and best circulation of any papers published in the beautiful Indian Territory — the best because we have not one delinquent subscriber. Our lists are open to inspection. The Daily is now in its tenth year, the Weekly in its ninth year. Both papers cover a field ripe for the advertiser. No contracts made for longer than 12 months. We carry no dead head ads and "fake" advertisements will not be recognized. If you mean business and want business write the Ardmoreite. These papers give all the Territory news worth telling, and you can believe all they tell. DAILY $5 Per Year; WEEKLY $1 per Year.

THE ARDMOREITE,

SIDNEY SUGGS, Propr.

BARTLESVILLE.

Population, 1,600. An incorporated town, located on the Big Caney river, which affords splendid water power the year round, on the A., T. & S. Fe Ry. and on the Oklahoma extension of the M., K. & T. Ry. in the Cherokee Nation, in the center of the natural gas and petroleum region of the Indian Territory one mile from Oklahoma Osage boundary line, 18 from the Kansas state line and 200 south of Kansas City. Has 3 churches, excellent public schools, 2 national banks, 4 hotels, a vitrified brick plant with a daily capacity of 100,000, cotton gin, roller mills, etc. There are 5 gas wells yielding 20,000,000 cubic feet of gas every 24 hours and 9 petroleum wells. The town is lighted and heated by gas. The Bartlesville Gas and Oil Co. offers natural gas to manufacturers at 3 cents per 1,000 feet. The press is represented by a live newspaper, the Bartlesville Magnet, edited by Charles E. Haywood. This is a rapidly growing town and from its natural advantages and surroundings is bound to develop into a place of greatest importance. Tel., W. U. Exp., Am. and W., F. & Co. CHICKASHA.

Population, 8,000. Is situated on the banks of the Washita river, in the northwestern part of the Chickasaw Nation, 177 miles north of Ft. Worth, Tex., and 414 miles southwest of Kansas City, Mo., on the main line of the Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific Rys. By its geographical position Chickasha is a natural distributing point for the towns and settlements east, south and west for a radius of 75 miles. At present the Rock Island branches off here in a westerly and southerly direction to Anadarko and Lawton in the newly opened Kiowa-Comanche country, or due southwest to Mangum, and the Pan Handle of Texas. This branch is now being extended east from Chickasha to Paul's Valley, I. T. The Frisco and Santa Fe systems have likewise both projected lines to run severally from Oklahoma City and Purcell, Ind. Territory, the completion of which is but the matter of few months. This will make Chickasha an important railway junction. The Rock Island are building new shops and roundhouse here, with room for 500 mechanics and laborers. The city is incorporated, has U. S. Commissioners' Court, 3 banks, a steam flouring mill and a wind grist mill, 2 grain elevators, a cotton seed oil mill, an iron foundry and machine shops, steam laundry, bottling works, a 20-ton ice plant, a cigar factory, an opera house, 2 daily, 1 weekly newspapers, and every line of ordinary commercial enterprise. The country about is made up for the most part of rolling prairie farms, the soil of which is a dark sandy loam, well adapted to produce good cotton, grain or cereals. Some of this country is well watered by timbered streams, in the fertile valleys of which nature has furnished all the pre-requisites to make an industrious farmer rich. There are Episcopal,

Baptist, Methodist, Presbyterian, Christian and Roman Catholic church edifices here with each an incumbent and a well organized congregation. Public schools for both races are found with an enrollment of nearly 1,500 pupils, besides numerous private classes in the various arts, physical culture. Social, literary and musical clubs and coteries have been started, while Masonry, Odd Fellowship and Pythianism are represented by affluent lodges. These and a number of beneficiary orders, notably a lodge of Elks 100 strong, meet at regular intervals, and are well attended. The business portion of Chickasha has recently been the scene of 4 large fires. Looked at with an eye to the future, however, these conflagrations ought not to be called disasters, for there is already in course of construction a number of handsome brick business blocks to replace the cheap structures that stood there before. Population, 1,500. A town on the M., K. & F. Ry., in the Creek Nation, 36 miles south of Muskogee, 143 miles from Parsons, Kas., and 126 miles north of Denison, Texas, is a modern and up-to-date town and located in the very heart of the best agricultural section of the Creek Nation, has good schools and churches, Catholic, Baptist and Methodist, 2 national banks, with a capital of $80,000 dollars, a $50,000 cotton seed oil mill, 4 gins, 2 good hotels, the Foley being a new and handsome three-story brick with all modern conveniences. The National is also a good hotel for accommodation of travelers. Two of the largest mercantile houses in either Indian or Oklahoma Territory are located here. There are many more lines of business in a prosperous and growing condition. There are two weekly newspapers published, the Gazette and Indian Journal. Eufaula is strictly made up of home capital. The business men are all young, full of thrift and industry. The Choctaw, Oklahoma & Gulf Ry. will soon be completed through the town. There is every assurance that Eufaula will rank with the large cities in the territory in the near future. Cotton is the chief product and live stock is also shipped. Has telephone and telegraph connections. Tel., W. U. Exp., Am. J. C. Belt, postmaster.

FORT GIBSON.

Population, 900. Cherokee Nation. An incorporated town, located in the northern portion of the Indian Territory, near the line between the Cherokee and Creek Nations, 15 miles southeast of Wagoner, 69 northwest of Fort Smith, Ark., and 293 south of Kansas City. The National cemetery is located here. The name of Fort Gibson is very familiar, having been headquarters for a military reservation years ago; the barracks and some of the old buildings are standing there to-day. Grand river nearby affords unlimited water power; a rich agricultural country surrounds the town; has a good public school; Methodist, Presbyterian and Baptist churches, and a bank. A weekly newspaper, The Post, is issued. Ships cotton, hay, corn and potatoes. Mail, daily. Stage to Muskogee twice a day; fare, 75 cents; to Tahlequah once a day; fare $2.50 round trip. Tel., W. U. Exp., Pacific. Hubbard Ross, postmaster
